Bankers Assured Burden Would Be Taken from Them, Senators Told

GLASS BILL OPPOSED

New Yorker Says Passage Would Destroy Effects of Remedial Work

Washington (AP)—A statement that formation of the National Credit corporation last October by bankers was not "voluntary" but was undertaken on the assurance of President Hoover that the Reconstruction Finance corporation would be formed to take over its work was made before the senate banking committee today by Percy H. Johnston, president of the Chemical Bank and Trust company, New York.

The statement was made during hearings on the Glass banking revision bill when Senator Glass (D., Va.) recalled the contribution of leading banks to the National Credit corporation fund to aid smaller banks and used the word "voluntary."

Johnston, who opposed the Glass bill, replied that he would not describe the action as voluntary.

"I was in that conference at Secretary Mellon's home," he added. "President Hoover told us he had talked to leaders in congress and that as soon as congress met it would form the reconstruction corporation to take us out of this position."

"Then you didn't do it voluntarily?" asked Senator Glass.

"We were asked to do it on that basis as a quick stop gap and we did it," Johnston replied.

Opposed Glass Bill

Earlier he had opposed the Glass bill, saying its passage now would destroy all effect of the remedial measures looking to an end of deflation.

Johnston asserted the penalization of 15-day borrowings from federal reserve banks would "make U. S. bonds less desirable, would handicap the U. S. treasury in its necessary financing and would increase the interest rate on government bonds, thereby the interest rate on all classes of securities, and depreciate the market value of all existing securities."

This was promptly challenged by Senators Glass and Buckley (D., Ohio).

Glass asserted the 15-day provision is necessary to keep federal reserve funds from going into stock market speculation, as he maintains it did in enormous amounts prior to the 1929 crash.

Buckley said that now is the time to prevent a repetition of that experience.

"It's pretty hard to purify a household when it's on fire," remarked Johnston.

"The fire has pretty well died down now," Johnston replied.

"You don't want it to burn up the place do you?" cut in Glass.

"If I think any major changes in the federal reserve law would be much better if made at some other time," said Johnston.

Hoover's Statement

As regards the banking pool and the reconstruction corporation, President Hoover in a formal statement on Oct. 6 proposed the private credit agency and in the same statement said "furthermore, if necessary requires, I will recommend the creation of a finance corporation similar in character and purpose to the War Finance corporation, with available funds sufficient for any legitimate call in support of credit."

In announcing the banking credit pool, he said, "I propose the following definite program of action: 'To mobilize the banking resources of the country and to meet these conditions, I request the bankers of the nation to form a national institution of at least $500,000,000. . . . I have submitted my proposal'

Senate Inquires Into Loesch Charges

JOHNSON TO BE QUESTIONED IN OFFICIAL QUIZ

District Attorney Says He'll Summon Loesch to Grand Jury Probe

Washington (AP)—The senate judiciary sub-committee considering the nomination to the circuit court of Judge James H. Wilkerson of Chicago, decided today to call district Attorney George E. Q. Johnson in a further investigation of the appointment.

Chairman Borah said the committee had decided to invite Johnson in connection with some matters mentioned yesterday in the letter received from Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime commission. Johnson prosecuted Al Capone, who was sentenced by Wilkerson to 10 years in the penitentiary and one year in jail for tax evasion.

Borah would not reveal why Johnson was being called or what part of the Loesch letter the committee wanted to question him about.

Loesch said that organized gangdom in Chicago was seeking to release Capone through control of public officials and urged confirmation of Wilkerson to aid law enforcement.

He said rejection of the nomination would be claimed by the criminal organizations of Chicago as a victory.

In sentencing Capone, Wilkerson refused to accept an agreement reached between the prosecuting officers and counsel for the gangster that he should receive a short sentence in return for a plea of guilty.

Wilkerson allowed Capone to withdraw his plea of guilty and after trial and conviction ordered him sent to the penitentiary for 10 years with an additional year in jail.

Capone has not yet gone to the penitentiary having appealed the sentence. He is now in jail awaiting the outcome of his appeal.

TO SUMMON LOESCH

Chicago (AP)—United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, who obtained the Al Capone income tax conviction, said today he will summon Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime commission, before the federal grand jury April 13 to give "any facts he may have" linking one of Johnson's assistants with the Capone syndicate.

Loesch, an 80-year-old crusader against crime, has been vigorously supporting the nomination of federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, who sentenced Capone, to the circuit court of appeals here. He recently wrote to Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, that William Parrillo, one of Johnson's assistants and a candidate for Republican war committee here, is a "known partisan of Capone."

Parrillo is one day after the election primaries here. Johnson's statement recalled that fact. It said Parrillo's work had been "credible and satisfactory" for years, that he had "never heard from Mr. Loesch" on the charges, and that he had "always brought anyone who made statements reflecting on the conduct of assistants before the grand jury."

Chairman Norris of the Judiciary committee, also gave consent to requests of the anti-prohibitionists for a report on the legislation to the senate. The report doubtless will be adverse, the prohibitionists claiming full command in the senate.

Blaine said the hearings will be deferred to April 14 because some of those desiring to testify wish two weeks notice.

LUMBERJACK SENT TO PRISON FOR SLAYING

Wausau (AP)—Sylvester White, Woodruff lumberjack, pleaded guilty to second degree murder for the slaying of Frank Lahey, 70, and was sentenced in circuit court here today to 14 to 16 years in the state prison at Waupun.

Lahey was killed Feb. 14 in a fight in the town of Presque Isle in Wisconsin during a drunken argument. White beat the aged man over the head with a club when he refused to leave the shack.

PADLOCKS SOUGHT AT SEYMOUR, GREEN BAY

Milwaukee (AP)—Padlocks actions seeking to close for one year a saloon at 1232 E. Mason st., Green Bay, and the first floor and basement of a residence at Seymour Outagamie co., were on file in federal court today. Thomas Lukaszewicz is named as operator and S. C. Lukaszewicz as owner of the saloon. Earl and Mae Fraser are named as operators and Mae Fisher as owner of the Seymour residence.

MAN IS ARRESTED FOR ABANDONING HIS WIFE

Milwaukee (AP)—Winnebago authorities are expected today to accuse Mike Gass, 42, accused of abandoning his second wife, Mrs. Eric Steinke, Heleusville, Wis. Gass was arrested on a charge of swindling a Milwaukee woman and at that time said his wife was dead. Mrs. Steinke read the account of his arrest in a newspaper and immediately notified authorities.

BLAINE ANNOUNCES DRY LAW HEARINGS

Senate Committee to Open
Quiz April 14 on Repeal, Modification

Washington (AP)—Senator Blaine (R., Wis.), today announced hearings would be opened on April 14 by a senate judiciary sub-committee on proposals for repeal of the 18th amendment and modification of the Volstead act.

There are half a score of measures pending proposing various prohibition changes. Lengthy hearings are in prospect, but Blaine gave assurance that the committee would conclude in time to permit a senate vote.

Chairman Norris of the Judiciary committee, also gave consent to requests of the anti-prohibitionists for a report on the legislation to the senate. The report doubtless will be adverse, the prohibitionists claiming full command in the senate.

RE-HEARING ASKED FOR 7 CONDEMNED NEGROES

Montgomery, Ala. (AP)—Applications for a re-hearing of appeals to the Alabama Supreme court were filed today in behalf of seven Negroes sentenced to death at Scottsboro a year ago for attacks on two white girls.

Counsel for the Negroes asked the court to set aside its judgment rendered yesterday whereby the sentences were affirmed for seven of eight Negroes convicted and May 13 designated as the date for their execution.

The eighth Negro was granted a new trial on the claim that he was only 15 years old when tried and therefore the court lacked jurisdiction in his case.

LINDY DENIES IMPORTANCE OF NEW BABY CLUE

Three Virginians Insist Early Return of Missing
Child Expected

Norfolk, Va. (AP)—Despite official announcement from the Lindbergh home in Hopewell, N. J., that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh did not consider important information about his kidnapped baby furnished by three Virginians, one of those informants today said early return of the baby was expected.

The three men who went from here to tell Col. Lindbergh of indications the baby was on a yacht in Chesapeake bay and would be returned through them are the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, and John Hughes Curtis.

"We not only hope but expect the completion of negotiations within a few days," Dean Dobson-Peacock said today.

He expressed fear that publicity given the new phase in the famous case might jeopardize "a good clue," but reiterated his belief that all would still turn out satisfactorily.

"We had hoped for an early and a happy solution," he said. "And such is still our hope."

Denial that Col. Lindbergh considered important the information taken him from Virginia was made today at Hopewell by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of New Jersey state police, who is in general charge of the police search for the kidnappers. He said he was speaking for Col. Lindbergh.

Minister Hopeful

Dean Dobson-Peacock pointed out that in radio broadcasts from Christ Episcopal church he had often expressed hope for the safe return of the kidnapped child.

"What I said on those occasions certainly was heard on the eastern shore and as far north as Baltimore," he added. He would not consent to further questioning along this line.

Dean Dobson-Peacock denied the kidnapped baby was with the go-between during their negotiations with the three Norfolk men.

"That's all wrong," he asserted. "Ask yourself what could be more foolish."

Dean Dobson-Peacock would not say whether a recent report had been received concerning the safety of the baby.

He added he was puzzled as to the manner in which the negotiations became public. Negotiations had been conducted with all secrecy, here, he said, but apparently became known to Hopewell and Norfolk police.

Baby Reported Safe

At the time negotiations were opened with the three Norfolk men, Dean Dobson-Peacock said, it was reported to them that the baby was "safe and well." He added that he did not know where the baby is and

INVESTIGATE STORY OF NEBRASKA KIDNAPING

Central City, Neb. (AP)—Miss Laurel Morrison, 20-year-old Aurora beauty parlor operator, was back home with her parents here today, after being missing two days. She told authorities she had been kidnapped and held captive in Lincoln.

George Gohde, operator of a Lincoln Cosmetology school, told police there, however, that Miss Morrison had been attending classes at the school and that he recognized her from pictures published in Lincoln newspapers.

Sheriff J. J. Mohr of Nebraska, said he planned to question her later. He said he would turn over a $10,000 ransom note, which was completed with, to postal authorities after he had photostatic copies of it made.

Indian "Messiah" Sails For Crusade In America

Bombay, India (AP)—Meher Baba, the Indian spiritual leader whose disciples call him "the Messiah" and "the God-man" left here today for a new crusade in America.

He intends, he said, to break down all religious barriers, destroy America's materialism and amalgamate all creed into a common element of love.

For eight years Meher Baba has been observing a vow of silence, which he said he would break upon his arrival at Harmon, N. Y., where he plans to establish a spiritual retreat similar to Mahatma Gandhi's in India.

Giving his first interview to an American Press correspondent by means of a blackboard, Meher Baba, who in the eyes of his followers has performed many miracles, said Gandhi had promised to come with

PREFERS DOG TEAM TO AIRPLANE FOR 200-MILE JOURNEY

Fairbanks, Alaska (AP)—Choosing the overland route by dog team rather than the air, Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Philadelphia society woman, today awaited the pleasure of the elements and Mike Conney, veteran dog musher, before starting the 200 mile trip from Kantishna to Nenana.

Mrs. Biddle went to visit one of the north's famous characters, Fanny Quigley, on an upper tributary of the Koutishna river Jan. 12, and was forced to remain more than two months because of snow and poor trails.

Yesterday she refused the luxury of a two hour flight on a mail plane from her winter prison, preferring instead at least five days on the trail with a dog team.

30 MEN TAKEN FROM ICE FLOE

Marooned Fishermen Again Rescued from Lake Winnebago Break-up

Oshkosh (AP)—The second warning within a week that ice fishing on Lake Winnebago is a hazardous business when spring breezes start to blow was impressed today on about 30 men who were marooned for several hours in the latest break-up of ice.

A strong west wind, accompanied by swirling snow, opened a fissure five miles long in the shore ice at Fairway's point, six miles south of here, late yesterday. Rolling waves quickly battered the huge sheets of ice into smaller floes which scuttled out into the lake.

When the dangerous position of the stranded fishermen was noted, a lone boatman started out to rescue them from the ice pack. Spectators on the shore reported one of the fishermen nonchalantly pedaled a bicycle around on the ice floe during the rescue.

The last of the men was brought to shore in a large boat sent to the scene by the Oshkosh bridge department. William Koepke, in charge of the rescue squad, said the ice was breaking up rapidly in the waves when the last trip was made.

Apparently profiting by an experience of a year ago when 14 auto mobiles and trucks used by 26 fishermen were caught on drift ice those involved in yesterday's mishap had left their machines on shore.

MUNCIE, IND., MAYOR GIVEN SPECIAL QUIZ

Washington (AP)—George R. Dale, mayor of Muncie, Ind., recently indicated for conspiracy to violate prohibition, said today the justice department has promised him to give immediate consideration to his demand for an independent federal investigation of the procedure leading to his indictment.

He conferred with Attorney General Mitchell and Assistant Attorney General Youngquist, and said he thought prompt international cooperation on silver "imperative."

His statement was in answer to a request by Chairman Somers of the committee, for an expression on the need for an international conference on silver.

Similar requests were sent by Somers to government officials, or economists of several countries, Sir Reginald, reply, the first, expressed the belief that prompt international cooperation is not only desirable but imperative at the present time and that a reasonable estimate can be given to the value of silver only through international action.

HITS BOARD OF TRADE Washington

(AP)—The action of the Chicago Board of Trade in increasing the number of deliverable wheat grades from 9 to 11 was criticized today by Secretary Hyde in letters sent to Senator McNary and Representative Jones, chairman, respectively, of the senate and house agriculture committee.

BROKEN LEG KEEPS LEVINE FROM COURT

New York (AP)—Charles A. Levine, first trans-Atlantic airplane passenger, failed to appear today for his trial on charges of grand larceny, forgery and receiving stolen property. His bail of $10,000 was ordered forfeited.

Execution of the bail forfeiture, however, was postponed until April 5 after the court was shown a physician's affidavit setting forth that Levine was suffering from a broken leg and could not be moved.

Levine has been sought for many months on a charge that he obtained a loan by using stolen bonds as security. He was found in a sanatorium last month, registered under another name and suffering from a broken leg. A few days ago he was indicted.

THREAT NOTES WRITER SOUGHT AT U. S. CAPITAL

Extortion Letters Received by Prominent Persons in Washington

Washington (AP)—A police guard was removed from the home of Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth today at her request but there was no let-up in the watch over the home of Sir Willmott Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times, nor in the search for the sender of extortion notes to them.

While the notes to the widow of the former speaker of the house did not contain a direct threat against her daughter, Paulina, the child is being kept under constant watch.

The letters to Sir Willmott were more direct. They demanded $1,500 and threatened his five year old son, Willmott, Jr., if the money were not paid.

Police said a dozen other prominent persons in the capital had been threatened by similar letters in recent weeks.

Police, however, predicted an early arrest. They were working on the theory that one man was responsible for several if not all of the threats, which involved promise of kidnapping Sir Willmott's young son unless $1,500 were paid.

A police guard was placed at his home and detectives also are watching Mrs. Longworth. She too was told to pay $1,500 but Paulina, her 7-year old daughter, was not threatened directly. Definite instructions were received by her twice as to how to pay the money. An agent followed the instructions, driving slowly in a taxi by the chosen spot for depositing the amount, but the promised signal from the extortionist did not develop, and the affair fell through.

Threats By Phone

The Lewis case bothered police most as the threats have been direct and to the point, with two letters and a telephone call. The notes in this and the Longworth case were taken to the bureau of standards for a comparison to determine whether one person was responsible for both.

In the case of Ben Lyon, a note demanding $500 and threatening the safety of his child was received by him recently while at a local hotel with his wife, Bebe Daniels. The child was in California. The letter was signed A. A. Carpenter, and requested an answer in care of general delivery. A trap at the postoffice failed to catch anyone, however.

This note and several others, police believe, were the work of cranks. They would not disclose the information which led them to expect an arrest in the two important cases.

BRITISH BANKER FOR SILVER CONFERENCE

Washington (AP)—Sir Reginald McKenna of the Midland Bank, Ltd., London told the house coinage committee in a letter today that he thought prompt international cooperation on silver "imperative."

His statement was in answer to a request by Chairman Somers of the committee, for an expression on the need for an international conference on silver.

Similar requests were sent by Somers to government officials, or economists of several countries, Sir Reginald, reply, the first, expressed the belief that prompt international cooperation is not only desirable but imperative at the present time and that a reasonable estimate can be given to the value of silver only through international action.

Friends furnished bones totaling $16,000 for Miller's release.

Haazgard and worried, but calm after his armed protest of the auction which he termed "legal robbery," Miller appeared to be in a rather serious physical condition.

He remained at the ranch last night after his arrest, with Bruce Potter, county attorney, and Potter's brother, Paul. Paul Potter said that examination of the shell fired by Miller while Neal Sullivan and W. O. Wilson, attorneys, were at the ranch "White House" to discuss the auction, revealed it had contained traces of nitroglycerin.

Meanwhile the last of four foreclosure suits against the ranch lands was postponed until April 13. Former Gov. Henry S. Johnson, chief counsel for Miller, disclosed that plans for refinancing the ranch through the Reconstruction Finance corporation were under way.

Three foreclosure cases against the Miller property have been lost by the ranchman. The fourth case had been postponed twice prior to today's delay. In this case both Miller and his divorced wife intervened to claim their right to the homestead site involved.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT KILLED IN GUN FIGHT

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—Gordon Allen, 18-year-old high school student, was killed in a gun battle with a policeman and two customs border patrolmen this morning on the river road in the town of Tonawanda, on the northern outskirts of Buffalo.

Police said Allen was found in a stolen car and, when questioned, attempted to shoot his way to freedom. The officers fired five shots at the youth before he collapsed. He was taken to a Buffalo hospital, but was dead on arrival.

COL. ZACK MILLER HELD FOR HEARING

Faces Charge of "Assault

After Shooting

Newkirk, Okla. (AP)—Colonel Zack Miller, last of the founders of the famed Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch, was arraigned in county court today on a charge of "assault with a dangerous weapon" and his preliminary hearing set for April 15.

The colorful rancher and showman came at odds with the law yesterday when he fired a shotgun at the heels of one of two attorneys for Fred C. Clark, receiver, in charge of an auction of the personal property of the ranch. The charge was filed early today.

Friends furnished bones totaling $16,000 for Miller's release.

Haazgard and worried, but calm after his armed protest of the auction which he termed "legal robbery," Miller appeared to be in a rather serious physical condition.

REFUSES O. K. FOR LEVY OF 3 CENTS PINT

Vote Taken after Bitter Dispute Between Wet and Dry Forces

VOTE IS 216 TO 132

Vote Ruled Permissible Because 2.75 Per Cent Beer, Never Held Illegal

Washington (AP)—A proposal to tax 2.75 per cent beer which would be made under permits from the treasury was rejected today by the house.

One hundred and thirty-two members tilled through between the tellers in support of the amendment on the first count of a vote under a procedure which did not permit a roll call. The proposed amendment would have assessed a tax of 3 cents a pint against beer.

Representative Cullen (D., N. Y.), who sponsored the amendment, argued that it would produce from $350,000,000 to $450,000,000 of revenue annually and would go far toward relieving unemployment.

Opponents contended it was in violation of the constitution and argued that the country could not drink itself into prosperity.

The vote came after bitter debate that threw the house into disorder at times. The vote was 216 to 132.

Opponents of the amendment had objected to the question being put to a vote on the contention that the house should not ballot on the question of assessing a tax on an article which they argued was forbidden by the constitution, but their objections were overruled.

Representative Bankhead (D., Ala.), the presiding officer, had ruled that a vote was permissible because the supreme court had never held that beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content was forbidden by the constitution.

Announcement of the result brought ringing cheers from the prohibitionists.

Washington (AP)—The house was held in session today, appointed a sub-committee to draft proposals designed to bring in about $600,000,000 of revenue to replace the amount stricken out of the new tax yesterday when the house rejected the sales levy.

Acting Chairman Crisp announced after an executive session of the committee that it was hoped the sub-group would be able to lay the proposal before the full committee not later than Monday.

"The bridge is off, and the sub-committee can recommend anything it desires including items in the original Hoover-Mellon-Mills program," the Georgia Democrat said.

Representative Ragon, an Arkansas Democrat, was designated as the chairman. Other members are Representatives Vinson of Kentucky, and Canfield of Indiana. Democrats: Hawley of Oregon, and Treadway of Massachusetts. Republicans:

Crisp did not appoint Representative Doughton of North Carolina, the Democratic leader of the insurgents that yesterday forced the sales levy out of the revenue bill.

The north Carolinian declined then to take over the responsibility of handling the bill, advising Crisp that he preferred the ways and means committee to continue in control of the measure.

Rainey Not Picked

Neither was Representative Rainey of Illinois, the Democratic leader and an advocate of the sales tax, appointed on the sub-committee. Both he and Doughton are members

FRANK NITTI SLATED TO RULE AL CAPONE SYNDICATE, RUMOR

Chicago (AP)—Frank Nitti, reputed "enforcer" of "Scarface Al" Capone's crime campaign, returns home from the Leavenworth penitentiary today to rumors that rumble of his nomination to the command of the Capone syndicate.

The federal government has executed 15 months of his freedom for dodging income tax collectors and he is at liberty again, but his chief Capone, and Jake Guzik, the syndicate's business manager, have similar debts that remain to be squared.

Guzik was given a week's stay yesterday before going to the Leavenworth penitentiary to serve a five year term, and Capone has been granted a 30-day extension during which he will remain in the county jail pending his appeal to the supreme court from a conviction that brought him an 11-year sentence.

With Sam Guzik, another of the Capone chieftains, serving the rest of his year's term at Leavenworth and Al Capone's younger brother, Ralph, out of the way at McNeill's island in Puget Sound, Nitti, it is rumored in gangland, succeeds to leadership.

Four-Power Conference Planned To Help Danubian Countries

CUSTOMS PACT PROPOSED BY FRENCH CHIEF

Tardieu Indicates France Will Accept Proposal by British

Paris—(AP)—A four-power conference among France, Great Britain, Germany and Italy to discuss methods to give economic aid to the five Danubian countries was considered a certainty in official quarters here today.

Premier Tardieu indicated that France would accept a British semi-official proposal advanced yesterday for such a conference and said he expected to confer with British Minister Ramsay MacDonald in the near future.

It was believed likely that Neville Chamberlain, British chancellor of the exchequer, and Premier MacDonald would meet the French premier to talk over the proposed Lanes conference and the Danubian matter, probably in Geneva on April 11.

Premier Tardieu has proposed a general customs pact to promote trade for Austria, Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

BRITAIN'S SUPPORT

London—(AP)—Great Britain semi-officially threw her influence toward the conference method of solving central Europe's economic crisis today by suggesting preliminary negotiations among the "big four."

This approach varies sharply from the French plan to have the five Danubian states—Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Czechoslovakia—form a general Danubian customs union.

It also differs from the Italo-German idea of having the four—France, Great Britain, Italy and Germany—sit in simultaneously with the little five on their most pressing problem.

The British proposal last night followed advance publication of the league of nations finance committee's report recommending a continued moratorium for Hungary, and recognizing the necessity for loans to Austria and Greece.

British sources agreed this report was tantamount to an official approval of the French plan for handling the credit impasse affecting the small southeastern nations.

Both Italy and Germany have told France they do not fully approve of Tardieu's suggestion for "one agreement involving customs preferences to facilitate trade between the agrarian Danubian states and the large industrial powers."

Germany's position is that Germany on March 16 sent a memorandum to France insisting that the customs union idea is too limited in scope, suggesting instead a "general conference to work out a permanent plan."

Previously Italy had informed France that she was dubious of the customs union idea, and leaned toward industrial commercial agreements. At any rate, Dino Grandi, Italy's foreign minister, wanted a general conference first.

In between these two exchanges came a Franco-British communique announcing the two nations would work together for solution of Europe's difficulties, and the Danubian situation was mentioned specifically.

British government officials were said today to be considering the possibility of an interview between Tardieu and Ramsay MacDonald, the British prime minister, regarding reparations, as well as economic aid for the Danubian group.

Chancellor Karl Buresch focused attention on the plight of the south-east on Feb. 18 with a veiled threat to declare a moratorium and regulate imports unless Austria had "at least a small amount of economic and financial consideration from other nations."

Furniture refinishing will be the subject, and only local leaders will attend, according to Miss Harriet Thompson, county club leader, who is directing the programs. The leaders have been asked to bring furniture to be refinished.

General Weather

Fair weather prevails this morning over nearly all sections of the country except the lake region and upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, where it is cloudy and unsettled, with light rain or snow reported from scattered places in those sections. Rain or snow is expected in this section tonight and Saturday, with clearing Saturday.

Fame's Shadow Darkens Romance

Once considered the happiest couple in Hollywood, Ann Harding, who left the stage to rise to international fame in the films, and Harry Bannister, who registered only faintly in the screen world, announce they will seek a divorce so that Bannister can pursue his career. They are shown here. Both objected, they said, because his wife's success caused folks to speak of her husband as "Mr. Ann Harding," an old Hollywood custom. Married six years ago when both were starting on the legitimate stage, they have a four-year-old daughter.

"Research" Students In Mine Fields Facing Jail If They Join Red Activity

Knoxville, Tenn.—(AP)—A party of college students bent on "sociological research" assembled here today for a trip to the southeastern Kentucky mine fields where they were assured a welcome if well-behaved and jail if they "identify themselves with the 'red' movement."

The Easter holiday research group centered about 40 New York students traveling in motor buses, and approximately 75 from colleges and universities in other sections announced intention to join the caravan across the Cumberland into the Kentucky coal lands, where troubles between workers and miner operators have drawn attention.

At Pineville, Ky., the students' first scheduled stop, Walter B. Smith, county attorney, forewarned that "the moment any of them identify themselves with the 'red' movement they will be filed with other exhibits we have in jail here."

The New York group of 25 men and 15 women represents Columbia university, the College of the City of New York, New York university, Hunter college, Union Theological seminary and Sarah Lawrence college.

Several weeks ago a group of New York writers set out from Knoxville with several truck loads of food to distribute to striking miners at Pineville. Before daylight the next day they trailed back here claiming they were sent to the state line at midnight by Pineville residents and officers and told not to return.

Waldo Frank, chairman of the group, and Allen Tate, attorney for the International Labor Defense, had battered heads, the work, they charged, of members of the escorting party.

The first of the student research caravan arrived here shortly after midnight, announcing as their sole purpose relief work among striking miners and an effort to ascertain whether their right to organize to better their condition was guaranteed.

Bob Hall of Mobile, Ala., economics student at Columbia university, said no speeches or efforts to influence miners were planned. The students merely expect, he said, to interview miners, operators and officials in Bell and Harlan counties as "laboratory work in economics."

If distribution of relief among miners constitutes identifying the group with the "red" movement in Bell-co, he added, then "we may expect County Attorney Smith will attempt to file us with other exhibits in jail."

Noon was set as the time for the start to the mine fields.

COUNTY BOARD CAN SUBMIT QUESTIONS TO VOTE OF PEOPLE

Attorney General Holds Any Resolution Passed May Be Submitted

The county board of supervisors may submit to a referendum vote a resolution or ordinance which it has the power to pass, Stanley A. Staidl, district attorney, has been informed in an opinion from J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, according to word received here yesterday.

The opinion was asked at the request of the county board of supervisors after an argument at the February session over submitting five or any of the five resolutions to the people.

Resolutions were on the following questions:

Shall the county board abolish the office of home demonstration agent?

Shall the county board abolish the county agricultural agent?

Shall the county board abolish the office of county nurse?

Shall the county board refuse funds for aid to musical bands in this county?

Shall the county board refuse to make appropriations for funds for the county fair?

The attorney general's office has held that in each instance, if the county board is authorized to pass an ordinance or resolution such as intended to submit to the people, then the county board has the power to make the resolution contingent upon the adoption or rejection of the people in a referendum vote.

ORDER OF K. C. WILL OBSERVE FOUNDING DATE

Appleton Council Plans Big Program Next Tuesday at Country Club

Next Tuesday, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order of Knights of Columbus and like others of the more than 2,500 councils comprising the order and representing a far-flung membership of more than 600,000, Father Fitzmaurice council is planning to celebrate the golden jubilee in an appropriate and elaborate manner.

Activities for the day will begin with a dinner at 7 o'clock at North Shore Country club, after which cards and dancing will provide entertainment. A national radio broadcast will take place from 10:30 to 11 o'clock Tuesday night, including an address by Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody, and songs by Charles Hackett, principal tenor of the Chicago Civic Opera company, and Miss Clarence H. Mackay, formerly Anna Case, Metropolitan Opera star. Amplifiers will be placed in various parts of the club so that all persons attending the celebration can hear the broadcast.

Join In Program

The councils of Oshkosh, Clintonville, New London, Chilton, Neenah-Menasha, and Kaukauna are joining with Father Fitzmaurice council in this celebration.

The anniversary celebration is not confined alone to the United States but includes Canada, Mexico, Philippine Islands, Panama, Cuba, Porto Rico, Newfoundland and Alaska wherever councils of the Knights of Columbus are to be found. Knights of Columbus is one of the strongest fraternal organizations in existence. It was organized in 1882 at New Haven, Conn., for the purpose of combining solid fraternal benefits with the attractiveness of selected membership and secret initiation, which would not be oath bound, but secret only upon a gentleman's honor or yielding to Church and state. On March 29, 1882, it became the first national fraternal organization to be incorporated in Connecticut. None of the original incorporators are now living.

Outstanding among Knights in Wisconsin is the Hon. John F. Martin, K. S. G., Green Bay, who now occupies the second highest office within the gift of the supreme council, that of deputy supreme knight. He was first elevated to this position at the Portland, Ore., supreme convention in 1929, and was re-elected last year at the French Lick convention. Among the activities which Wisconsin state council has pioneered and which have been adopted by the supreme body is the retreat movement. This state has also been the lead in the biology work, and has done much for Catholic education. Among the educational activities of the state organization was the presentation of a $50,000 endowment fund to Marquette University some years ago.

Three degrees were included in the ceremonial as first adopted in 1882, but in 1900 was added the Fourth degree, the primary purpose of which is to inculcate love of country and stress the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. It was the first fraternal insurance society to adopt a complete scientific plan of insurance.

However, the activities of the order are not confined to insurance. They are rather extensive, including charitable, social, educational and religious. It has contributed huge sums for disaster relief, such as the San Francisco earthquake, Japanese earthquake, flood, hurricane, and other catastrophes. Its first war work was in the Spanish-American war, then on the Mexican border, and later in the World war, in which it made an enviable record. It has done much to combat radicalism.

Candidates To Address Voters Club

Activities of the Sixth Ward Voters' club will be resumed with a varied program at Roosevelt Junior high school at 7:45 next Monday evening. New officers will be elected. Present officers are: Arthur Schroeder, president; Mrs. Elmer Schabo, vice president, and Clarence Baetz, secretary.

A discussion of a new ward system which would give Appleton more representatives on the Outagamie-co board also will take place. Frank Wheeler will speak in favor of the proposition and John Lonsdorf will oppose the measure. Mr. Baetz, president of the Fox River Valley Baseball league, will discuss establishment of a new athletic field at Erb park.

Addresses also will be given by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., and Albert Rule, candidates for mayor; Alfred C. Bosser and Frank Johnson, candidates for city attorney; Fred E. Bachman and Joseph Knox, candidates for city treasurer; George Peotter and Elmer Scott, candidates for city assessor, and other candidates for city offices.

The referendum proposing amendment of the city ordinance to set a maximum of $3,000 for the city's annual appropriation to the 126th Field Artillery band also will be discussed, as will teachers' salaries. Question box will be conducted, and the band will play a program.

ARREST APPLETONIAN FOR MILWAUKEE POLICE

Willis Thiel, 22, Appleton, wanted by Milwaukee police for driving a car without the driver's consent, was arrested here yesterday by Appleton police and was lodged in the city jail. He is to be turned over to Milwaukee police who will take him to that city to face charges.

COUNTY GETS CHECKS FOR THREE AID FUNDS

Sanatorium Addition Brings Additional $14,000 from State Treasurer

Checks for three state aids to the county have been received by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer.

One check, for aid for sanatorium patients, was $29,051.05 or almost $14,000 more than last year. The 1931 check was for $15,317.37. The increase this year is due in part to the increased facilities at the sanatorium and the increase in the number of patients.

The county received $50,753.58 for chronic insane aid as compared with $30,512.40 last year.

Common school apportionment was almost $100 more than last year. The 1932 check was for $10,165 as compared to $9,966 for 1931. The latter fund is provided for by an old state law and is apportioned on the basis of 50 cents for every child in the county of school age, 4 to 19 years.

LAWRENCE EDUCATORS AT COLLEGE MEETING

Five Lawrence college professors left Friday morning for the Northwestern University where they will attend a meeting of American college and university professors. Prof. Frank Clippinger, Prof. Warren Beck, and Prof. Howard Troyer of the English department will attend the annual meeting of the college teachers of English. Dr. William A. MacConagha and Dr. Mandell Bober of the Lawrence economics department will attend the meeting of social science instructors. Dr. Bober is chairman of the program committee.

MELLON SEES NO CHANGE IN DEBT OUTLOOK

Ambassador Says There's No Likelihood of Immediate Changes

Washington—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, ambassador to Great Britain, told newspapermen today he had no "knowledge of any change" in the foreign debt situation.

Leaving the chambers of the house foreign affairs committee where the former treasury head was received and tendered the best wishes of this group in his new post, Mellon was questioned by newspaper men.

"Do you think Europe will pay us any debt this year?"

"You know as much about that as I do," was Mellon's quick response, accompanied by a smile.

"I have no knowledge of any change in the situation and see no likelihood of any change at the present time," Mellon replied to another query.

Mellon was accompanied by David Finlay, who was his special assistant at the treasury and will go with him to London.

The ambassador said he expected to leave Washington next Tuesday and sail from New York about April 1.

Mellon seemed in excellent spirits. He made a short talk to the committee behind closed doors, was applauded and then posed with the group for photographs.

Requested to shake hands with Chairman Lathrop by the photographers and to hold his pose several minutes, he remarked to the Marylander: "You seem to be accustomed to holding hands."

He also related to Lathrop, how, when returning from Europe last summer and posing for pictures in the same manner, a flash light bulb had exploded and cut his hand.

Lathrop said later Mellon had not talked business but that the committee had invited him to come because it was endeavoring "to become better acquainted with our foreign representatives."

Living Nerves Switched In Tests By Anatomists

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor New York—(AP)—Zoological proof that living nerves can be switched like telegraph wires was presented to the American Association of Anatomists meeting here today.

If the nerve naturally controlling a muscle is destroyed, another nerve can be substituted by operation, and will operate the muscle very well.

These switches have been made and their success verified at Yale university in the Osborn zoological laboratory. Donald H. Barron, who conducted the experiments, reported them to the anatomists.

The Yale operations go far toward settling a medical question of immediate human application. Years ago Dr. Harvey Cushing of Harvard university cured a man of twisted neck by an operation which switched control of the faulty neck muscles from a diseased nerve to a healthy one.

But since then some others have had difficulty in repeating Dr. Cushing's results, a circumstance that raised doubts whether the nerve switching was the real explanation. In experiments on rats at Yale the nerves controlling the movements of the fore legs were disconnected. They were replaced by nerves from the hind legs. At first the disconnected front legs were virtually paralyzed—out of control. As the new nerve line strengthened the rat learned to use it to send signals to his fore legs. Some animals regained virtually full control of the legs.

A surprising feature is that these rats send the messages to move their front legs right through the hind leg nerve channels without seemingly confusing the rear members.

The value of rats for these experiments lie in the opportunity to discover whether the signals are leaking to the front legs through some unsuspected nerve channels. Rigorous tests indicate that the other nerves carry no signals, and that the entire front leg "orders" are transmitted via the hind legs.

Switches to certain other muscles show the same kind of results.

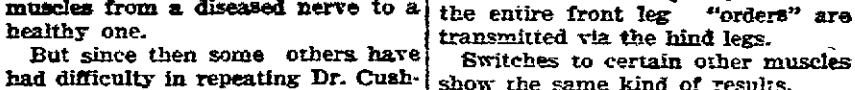

Sixty-four per cent of the 2670 prisoners in New York state are foreign born, and two-thirds of these are aliens.

IMPROPER DIET WEAKENS RESISTANCE TO COLDS

On the border line between serious illness and ragged health is the common cold. The first symptoms of the physical condition which causes colds are chronic fatigue, constipation, lack of ambition and energy. What causes these ailments? IMPROPER NUTRITION is a frequent cause, say America's leading dietitians and health authorities.

The whole question of What to Eat for Health is simply a problem of providing Balanced Nourishment for our bodies. This means eating foods which contain proteins, carbohydrates, minerals as well as bran roughage for intestinal hygiene.

Mother Nature has provided a rich source of nourishing elements in her whole grains of wheat and rice. For this reason, doctors and dietitians are everywhere urging that we eat more whole grain foods. Fortunately, there are today two truly WHOLE GRAIN breakfast cereals popped from entire kernels of wheat and rice—WHEAT POPS and RICE POPS.

Every spoonful contains the full food value of Nature's Cereals "popped" into plump, tasty tid-bits—delicious, nourishing, easily digested. Serve POPS for breakfast tomorrow.

ROOSEVELT IN STRONG LEAD IN CAMPAIGN

Groups Still Believe His Nomination Can Be Beaten in Convention

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1932, By Post Pub. Co.
Washington — Franklin D. Roosevelt stands in relation to the Democratic presidential nomination almost exactly where Herbert Hoover stood in relation to the Republican nomination just about four years ago. Mr. Roosevelt has a commanding lead and yet there are groups that believe his nomination can be blocked even though there has as yet been no anti-Roosevelt bloc of sufficient strength mustered behind any one candidate to prevent him from winning.

The outstanding difference, however, is that Mr. Hoover needed to get only a majority of the delegates while Mr. Roosevelt must have two-thirds. But the New York governor is today as near the two-thirds as Mr. Hoover was near a majority in the spring months. The primaries in such widely separated places as North Dakota and Georgia and New Hampshire have given Roosevelt a prestige in congress here which is impressive. When it is considered that most of the state delegations are directly or indirectly controlled by members of congress then the meaning of the Roosevelt position with his fellow Democrats here can be fully understood.

Conflicting Views
Curiously enough, the same thing that makes Roosevelt strong with congress—his progressive record and trend toward liberalism—is what makes him weak in the eyes of Republicans, most of whom think that of all the candidates that could be named, the New York governor would be the least dangerous. This is based on the notion that a business revival is going to be an important issue and that the Roosevelt record toward business can be analyzed on the stump as one leading to lack of confidence in the future rather than stability.

The wet and dry issue is not going to be as much of a factor if Mr. Roosevelt wins the Democratic nomination because while he favors the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the substitution of another, he is not looked upon as favoring precipitate action without a constructive alternative on which public opinion can be crystallized. With Mr. Hoover standing thus far on the letter of the eighteenth amendment and against revision, the hope of the Republicans is that the national platform will go farther toward the Roosevelt viewpoint than Mr. Hoover is today. In any event the chances of a clear-cut issue on prohibition are not as good as they were a few months ago, especially since the eastern Republicans have become so active in the wet cause and are likely to get a platform plank satisfactory to the wet east.

Economic Issues
With the campaign turning on economic problems, the Roosevelt program for business revival and the Hoover program of reconstruction would afford the main issues of the battle. Conservatives in the Democratic party have hoped that they could persuade the electorate that their candidate would be a more efficient conservative, a better leader

DailyLenten Reflection

FRIDAY, MARCH 25
"That the Life Also of Jesus Might Be Made Manifest in Our Mortal Flesh" (Read 11 Corinthians 4:1-5.)

Paul's insight was so searching that he could realize more clearly than any other man what Jesus' death actually signified. In order to understand Paul, we must have shared to some extent his experience with the Light. This we can do if the Radiance has been truly shed abroad in our hearts. It was by dying, Paul contends, that Jesus proved Himself to be eternally alive. This sounds paradoxical, and it is.

er in a crisis, a better administrator and a better economic general than the Democrats think Mr. Hoover has proved to be. Their suggestions in this respect included Newton D. Baker, Melvin Traylor, Owen D. Young. Each of the three, however, has refused to be an active candidate. There are plenty of favorite sons but none with the political organization back of them nationally that Governor Roosevelt has today.

If the New York governor is to lose the nomination, there are few signs on the horizon of how the job is going to be done. Up to the very first day of the Republican national convention at Kansas City, the regulars talked of beating Hoover but on the eve of the convention they counted noses and it took very little time to establish before the gavel fell that nominations can be won between December and June, which is the political axiom that the Roosevelt supporters have set out to prove once more.

Good Friday commemorates the Great Paradox of history. The darkness of the world was given full and final opportunity to destroy the Light of the world. No limitation was set upon it. Yet—the darkness was not able to extinguish the Light; because the Light is everlasting and the darkness is transitory. The Light is life and the darkness is death. The Light is creative and the darkness is destructive. Destructiveness destroys itself. In the very nature of things these facts are embedded. Their supreme, their most sublime, demonstration occurred at the crucifixion of Jesus. Only less sublime, and no less convincing, is their demonstration in the radiant self-sacrifice of every one who gives his life in service.

Prayer: Almighty and Eternal God, our Father, who commanded the Light to shine out of darkness, we thank Thee that Thou hast also shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of Thy glory in the face of Jesus Christ. Thou knowest that we have this treasure in earthen vessels. O Holy Father, even as Thou hast

NO REIMBURSEMENT FOR LUMBER COMPANY

Madison—(AP)—The Omaha railway does not have to reimburse the Edward Hines Hardwood & Hemlock company of Park Falls in the amount of $1,195.41 on 54 carloads of lumber moved between Park Falls and Rice Lake, the public service commission announced today.

The lumber was moved at a rate of $5.75 a hundred pounds in 1923. Subsequently the commission reduced the rate 3 per cent per 100 and the lumber company, in demanding reparation claimed the old rate was unjust and unreasonable.

In a statement refusing to subscribe to this theory the commission said: "Often a wide divergence of opinion exists as to the reasonableness of a specific rate between certain points and any policy pur-raised up Jesus our Lord, so also we believe that Thou wilt raise us up by Him, for Thy name's sake Amen.

THE SENATOR'S PROGRAM
Two things stand out from the address Senator LaFollette is making, one his proposal to have the government raise 5 1/2 billions by a bond issue to finance "the expansion of federal, state, county and municipal public works programs," and the second, his opposition to a sales tax.
Concerning the bond issue it should be admitted freely enough that no one can be very sure of what would happen down the road were this proposal acted upon. Would it provide work "directly and indirectly to 4 1/2 million people" as the senator estimates? Our own experience in Wisconsin in whipping up matters of public improvement to keep men employed was not very satisfactory, that is the number employed did not reach expectations. And so the senator's estimate must be taken with considerable salt.
One of the objections to the bond issue plan is that it sounds too easy. Ordinarily the better plan in almost all human difficulties is to pursue the harder course and one that will make us realize more pointedly the gravity in the situation, because it is largely of our own making. If we live high and carelessly we must expect to pay high bills and must learn to liquidate them without making wry faces.
The comparison of an individual under similar conditions with his government generally holds true, for there is little mysterious about the government any more than about the individual.
Would it be a good plan for a man faced with a cut income to greatly increase his expenses even if he had to mortgage his home to do so? Or would it be a better plan to cut his expenses and get along on less, however difficult the experience, until conditions justified the increase of his expenses? And if he mortgaged his home and spent the money, and conditions did not improve, what then? One thing would be sure, and only one, there would be more interest to pay.
Senator LaFollette favors a bond issue but Governor LaFollette has been congratulating the people of his state because Wisconsin is prohibited by its constitution from borrowing money "and must pay as it goes." Why a good principle in Wisconsin is a bad one for the nation is hard to fathom.
* * *
In relation to the sales tax the senator urges an increase in income and inheritance taxes but he does not meet the fact that even such an increase will not produce enough to balance the budget. It is one thing to deplore the sales tax but no one may do so successfully without suggesting something better to take its place.
In saying that our country is passing through one of the most serious crises in its history is but to repeat an expression that is becoming trite.
But how to face that serious situation and how to conduct our affairs so that the medicine applied will not be more hurtful than the illness is a problem that opens up so many avenues upon which minds can reasonably differ that we should not hasten pell-mell to a conclusion. Generally a serious condition requires the application of sane restoratives, constructed fairly, coolly, honestly.
When we were at war there was little of dissent. Adequate revenue measures were quickly passed. We seemed to sense the danger to the firing line by long drawn out gestures and fruitless controversy at home. We won on the firing line because, among other things, the people at home kept the budget balanced.
In facing the difficulty of raising an additional billion dollars we must first ask ourselves how much of the additional burden may be fairly placed on the wealthy in addition to the substantial amounts they now pay.
In answering that question we need have no personal consideration for the wealthy. Most of the people in the country are not wealthy. If the country likes it may strip the wealthy. The danger in such a program is that it may do more harm to ourselves than to the wealthy.

What we need is a just measure, fair to all parties. To arrive at that desired conclusion is not easy. But we must ever remember that injustice does more ultimate harm to those who inflict it than to those who immediately suffer by it.
When, as already proposed in the bill before congress, we take 40 per cent of the income of the wealthy (and an amendment which has just passed the house raises this to 65 per cent) and an additional 45 per cent of everything they have when they die we are making them pay a very heavy toll.
The sales tax would serve at least one great and good cause in America. It would bring the nose of every person into a pressing contact with the big plate glass windows that separate him from his government, and if he observes carefully as he will where his own dollar is concerned, he may see many things concerning wastage, inefficiency, and carelessness in the appropriation and expenditure of public moneys that will make him stare.
The complaint of the average income taxpayer has not been against paying his share. It has been against a system that takes his money because he is in the minority and throws a lot of it away, and all this with the support of a majority which too often looks the other way just because it is not hurt directly.
It is unfortunate when we are in need that we cannot turn back to the glorious days of childhood and put into practice that poem whose every verse ended with the helpful sentence: "Oh I will then, said the little red hen."
We haven't any little red hen, but we have a great government and a remarkable civilization, and while no one wants to pay more to support that government than is necessary none of us should permit our greed to run away with our better judgment.
THE UNKNOWN CITIZEN
The City of Philadelphia is to be credited with hanging a new portrait in the gallery reserved for immortals. It is that of The Unknown Citizen.
Vague in outline and of many colors, some subdued, others bright with rainbow tints, the portrait glows with the spark of hope, courage and love of human kind.
It is a picture which has had its counterparts in other distressing periods of our enlightened civilization but is now brought into bolder relief by the gracious act of awarding to its subject, The Unknown Citizen, the $10,000 prize given annually to the Philadelphian having performed the most outstanding service to the community.
By making the award to this visionary personage, the money was turned into the Unemployment Relief Fund where it memorialized and supplemented in substantial measure the efforts of many unknown citizens who have given liberally of their time and money, or who have met misfortune bravely and are carrying on with courage in the face of adversity.
The Unknown Citizen represents a legion in this country. In the war against human suffering; in the struggles and sacrifices of those who are doing their bit and more to relieve and mitigate economic distress; or in the ordeals of those facing fire quite as deadly as that from enemy cannon, the Unknown Citizen becomes almost as real as the Unknown Soldier.
It is this Unknown Citizen, representing the host of courageous and sacrificing citizens of every community, that will hold the nation steady in critical times. As a symbol of what is now going on to help those who are in need, or the courage of those who suffer, Philadelphia has created a dream picture that should be given a conspicuous place among our national Lares and Penates.
The tooth of a prehistoric monster, weighing four pounds, was recently unearthed near Evansville, Ind., beneath the bed of the Ohio river. It was buried under 55 feet of earth.

We Long for Our Indiana Home
Back home in good old Indiana—in Indianapolis, to be exact—the United States storeroom for liquor, in the basement of the federal building, is missing some 1,200 pints of bonded whisky. Now, how could 1,200 pints of bonded whisky get out of a federal storeroom?
If it were Indiana moonshine, it could eat its way out. But bonded whisky? Nope, we can't understand.

JOSEPH OF ARIMATHEA
Joseph of Arimathea had lived out his long career growing by counseling wisely, wealthier, year by year. He was known as a righteous rich man, gentle and kind and true. But history seldom lingers to tell us what such men do.
Joseph of Arimathea in the gloom of a Friday night. Visited Pontius Pilate—the envoy of Roman might. "There was a man named Jesus nailed to a cross today," said he, "and I ask permission to care for his lifeless clay."
"Little I know about him, but I've heard that his life was clean. I am told that because of his teachings men hated this Nazarene. Those who are called his apostles still fear what the mob may do. So I ask your august permission to care for a fellow Jew."
And Pilate who trusted Joseph and honored him, promptly said: "I will give you a guard of soldiers. Go now and bury the dead."
Thus strangely in history fashioned. From one kindly deed there came to the rich man of Arimathea eternal glory and fame.

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
CONSERVATIVE TREATMENT OF TONSILS
A teacher in one of the leading medical schools, with long experience in private and clinic practice, writes:
I note what you quote about season and weather affecting the size of the tonsils. How long is it going to take the profession to learn that the tonsils vary greatly in size from time to time and can enlarge over night . . . There are three classes of tonsils. Namely, what we generally regard as normal tonsils; the hypertrophied (with new tissue but not diseased), and infected tonsils. Infected tonsils constitute approximately 2 per cent. of all we examine.
The confusion between simply swollen tonsils and hypertrophied tonsils is almost constant . . . and that confusion is a large factor in the tonsillectomy scandal.
Even a good physician can't tell by the appearance of the tonsils whether they are just swollen, hypertrophied or infected. In order to make an accurate diagnosis the physician must feel of the tonsil with his finger or an instrument which conveys a sense of its consistency. Beware the tin doctor who decides tonsils or adenoids must be removed without troubling to make such an examination.
The tonsillectomy scandal is fading from our national consciousness now, but here and there the people are so benighted that nurses or other unqualified assistants can go out and round up truckloads or busloads of children and run 'em thru the clinic to have the tonsils and hypothetical adenoids removed wholesale by the tyros who haunt such places seeking opportunity to get a bit of experience or mayhap an occasional fee.
Altho the medical profession now takes a more conservative view of tonsils than in the past, we are by no means relinquishing the principle that the successful treatment, in many cases of chronic arthritis and other troubles demands the removal of a focus or nidus of infection in the tonsils. This is not a theory, but a well established principle of good sound practice.
The removal, destruction, sterilization or dissection of such an infected area in the tonsil is not necessarily a major operation, however. Modern refinements of skill and equipment enable the well trained physician to eradicate such focus of infection in the tonsil without subjecting the patient to hospitalization or even to grave hazard. The method which makes this possible is called diathermy or electro-cauterization. It is the method I should choose for myself if I were suffering from any chronic disease due to focal infection in the tonsils.
The complete extirpation of the tonsils by this method usually requires half a dozen or more sittings at intervals of several days or a week. But in many instances it happens that the infection focus is reached and completely sterilized or disinfected at the first or second treatment, and immediately the patient experiences improvement in the systemic trouble as a consequence of eradication of the septic source.
When that happens, there is no particular reason for continuing the treatment further. Uninfected tonsil tissue in the throat can do no harm.
The modern method is highly conservative. The old Spanish method (guillotine and snare tonsillectomy) is crude, blind, radical and, in my judgment, scarcely justifiable in a community where modern skill and equipment are available.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Depilation
You sent me, at my request, a pamphlet on piles and constipation, and I am glad to report that after following out the suggestions therein I have had excellent results, the former trouble being much better and the latter quite correct . . . (Mrs. M. A.)
Answer—Readers who wish advice about either or both troubles please enclose stamped addressed envelope, say that you have the trouble if you do not say so, no advice will be sent and be sure the signature of your letter agrees with the name on the return stamped envelope. We cannot send a reply unless these plain conditions are complied with. Too many correspondents neglect to sign their letters. No matter whether a stamped addressed envelope is inclosed, an unsigned letter will not be answered.
The Prairie, The Prairie
Please publish a way to get rid of it. I believe it is the common prairie itch . . . (H. T.)
Answer—Cuban, Italian, Spanish, Scandinavian, and other imposing names are commonly applied to scabies, which our grandmothers grimly characterized as just plain itch. Some wise-acres who aim to beat the doctor call it "seven year itch." Scabies intelligently treated need not last seven days, or if vigorously and properly treated as soon as the rash begins it may be cured in seven hours. Not all that itchy is scabies. If you have not had your doctor's advice about it you cannot be sure your trouble is scabies. If you are sure about it, send stamped addressed envelope and mention your trouble.

THE BLUE LAWS
Editor Post-Crescent—When you go to the polls next Tuesday you will be handed an Official Referendum ballot and will be required to vote "Yes" or "No" on this question: "Shall Sections $51.46 to $51.49 of the Wisconsin Statutes, popularly known as the Sunday Blue Law, be repealed?"
The average voter unless sufficiently interested will not know or take the trouble to inform himself as to just what he is voting on. This communication is intended to tell the citizens just what it is all about.
Under the present law, no person shall keep open his shop, warehouse or workshop or shall do any manner of labor, business or work, except only works of necessity and charity.
So far so good. We all cherish our Sunday too much to keep open our shops or to do any work on the first day of the week (Sunday) unless we have to and then we deem ourselves the best judges of whether or not we deem it necessary or charitable.
Here is the part that concerns the average citizen—"Or be present at any dancing or public diversion, show or entertainment, or take part in any sport, game or play on the first day of the week, (Sunday)."
If we dance on Sunday, go to a picnic or band concert, go to a movie, theatre or concert; if we play baseball, golf, race, motor or sail boats, play croquet, play tag or drop the handkerchief either as a participant or a spectator, we may under the present law, which an attempt is now being made to repeal, be subject to being haled into court and being fined $10.00 and the costs of the action amounting to from $3.00 to $5.00 more.
Just how our citizens look upon this curb of innocent pleasure and recreation we don't know but have a definite opinion.
Even though these laws are now on the books, public opinion has been so strong against them that no enforcement has ever been attempted. After vain attempts to obtain fair (not packed) juries to convict persons charged with these violations, public prosecutors have given it up as a bad job. An unenforceable law should not remain a law and the legislature is asking the people whether such laws should remain on the books or not. In response to the wish of our people the legislature will undoubtedly repeal the Blue Laws. Such a law is class legislation, enacting indirectly the fiction that is insisted in them and depriving another class—the big majority of our people—of using their leisure time on Sunday enjoying themselves in exercise, fresh air and sunshine and permitting them to choose the form of recreation that appeals to them most.
Whether we see moving pictures in a theatre or whether we enjoy them in a church on Sunday evening, its half a dozen of one and six of the other.
The "Blues" prefer that you see them in church and, so that they have no competition, compel the moving picture house to close.
If you favor "Blue Laws" vote "No" on your ballot Tuesday. If "Blue Laws" are distasteful to you and you want to exercise your right to obtain air and sunshine, play ball, go to a show or picnic on Sunday, play golf or duck on the Rock, in short, if you want to mind your own affairs and desire others to mind their own business, express yourself and vote "Yes."
OUTDOORS.
The wet-dry showdown finally shook many congressmen off the fence on the liquor question, but the fence is still low enough for easy jumping.

The Tynmites
By Hal Cochran
THE Tynmites watched we Scouty as he worked away. One said, "He has a clever touch. Perhaps he would have been a baker boy. Gee, won't it be a lot of fun if, when his frosting job is done, the baker gives us all some cake. 'Twill fill me up with joy."
Then Duncy added, "That suits me. I am as hungry as can be. Hey, hurry up there, Scouty. You are going rather slow. Be sure and frost the sides a bit and then the whole cake will look fit." "Don't try and tell me," Scouty snapped. "By this time I should know."
At last the baker cried, "Well, well! I must admit that cake looks swell. Whenever you desire to help me with my work, you can. I'll cut that cake for all of you, which is the real fair thing to do." Wee Duncy jumped and shouted, "Say, I'd like to lick the pan!"
"Go right ahead," the baker cried. "I'll let you lick the whole inside. Give all the rest a taste, though. There's enough for all of you. But, if you lick it you are keen, you'll have to wash it nice and clean. Just put it in the dishpan and then scrub it when you're through."
It didn't take them long to lick the pan and then 'twas washed up slick. Real shortly they all heard a crash. The oven door dropped down. Some loaves of bread came running out. The Tynmites heard one of them shout, "Help us into our basket. We are done, because we're brown."
And, sure enough, the baker looked great. The kindly baker shouted, "Wait! I'll put the basket 'neath the door. The bread then can run in." Loaf after loaf came scamp'ring out glad to be where 'twas cool, no doubt. The basket filled up quickly and this made the Tynmites grin.

GARNER'S CHANCES ARE DIMMED AFTER SALES TAX DEFEAT

Week Writes Important History in Present Political Campaign

BY BYRON PRICE
Washington—(P)—While the political headlines busily record the steady growth of delegate support behind Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, events elsewhere also are writing important history in both political parties.

For the Democrats, and particularly for the presidential aspirations of Speaker John N. Garner, the tax battle in the house has taken on political aspects of extraordinary significance. Among the Republicans, a major under-surface agitation centers about new demands from both sides with respect to prohibition.

Garner's supporters have presented the record of his house leadership as outstanding proof of his availability for the presidency. Now his espousal of the sales tax has been accompanied by at least temporary loss of control, and by political reverberations far exceeding expectations.

What will be the ultimate effect on his chances among the voters? The speaker's friends declare he will not suffer greatly in the long run, although they plainly are concerned at the embarrassments that have clustered about him just at this stage of the campaign. The making of a tax bill is a long process. It still is possible the Garner leadership may regain, by some sudden stroke, much of the prestige it unquestionably has lost during the past week.

Georgia Not Real Test
Georgia's sweeping endorsement of Roosevelt at Wednesday's primary is a barometer of disputed reliability in his coming test of strength with Garner, who was brought into the picture by those convinced he was best qualified to head off the fast-moving Roosevelt boom. In Georgia Garner was entered only by proxy, and by a proxy without outstanding popularity in the state. The result was about what both sides expected.

A more clear test-out test—and probably the first—will be furnished by the Nebraska primary on April 12, in which Roosevelt, Garner and "Alfalfa Bill" Murray all are entered.

Of course, from Roosevelt's viewpoint, Georgia is important. The primary demonstrated in a southern state the same vote-getting ability New York's governor already had shown in North Dakota and New Hampshire. To that degree it increased Roosevelt's prestige at a critical time, it was accentuated when another southern state, Kentucky, virtually was promised the Roosevelt managers by Senator Alben Barkley.

Roosevelt now has definitely-recorded pledges of 85 delegates out of the 700 and odd he needs. He is sure to pick up a great many more during the coming month, and most estimates of his first ballot strength range from 500 upward. Then it will be a question of the staying qualities of the smaller groups supporting the fifteen or more candidates against him.

Hoover Support Certain
President Hoover, virtually alone in the Republican race, picked up the Iowa delegation or 25 during the week, and now has 91 delegates instructed, pledged or claimed for him. Few dispute that by the end of April enough to nominate will be in the bag.

The Republican troubles relate rather to the platform—and to some degree to the vice presidency. Two months ago, it was conceded generally that the ticket again would be Hoover and Curtis. Now some party leaders are urging that second place be given to the eastern seaboard, and to an opponent of the dry laws.

Vice President Curtis has many friends, and the movement against him has not yet clearly developed. It may work itself out along with the problem of what to do about prohibition—a problem about which nothing definite can be said because the head of the party, President Hoover is saying nothing definite.

LOCAL UNIT PAYS FOR TREATING INDIGENTS

Madison—(P)—The necessities for maintaining and treating an indigent person, quarantined because of a communicable disease, must be paid for by the unit of local government charged with poor relief, Attorney General John W. Boyanokis has ruled in an opinion to District Attorney Louis W. Cattan, of Shawano county.

In another opinion, the attorney general told Paul D. Kelleter, state conservation director, that legal trout and whitefish caught in a four inch mesh gill net are of legal length and may be retained by the fishermen.

"All lake trout and whitefish," the opinion continued, "that are caught in a 2 1/2 inch mesh gill net which is permitted only for herring, chubs and perch are unlawfully caught and possessed and if alive must be returned to the waters."

If the fish is dead, however, and of commercial value, it must be turned over to the conservation department to be sold as confiscated goods, the opinion said.

DIVORCEE IS SHOT DEAD IN BEER FLAT

Witnesses Accuse Intoxicated Patron of Fatal Shooting

Chicago—(P)—Miss Dorothy Evelyn Renshaw, 23-year-old divorcee who came here from Sioux City, Iowa, 10 days ago to visit a school chum, was shot and killed this morning in what the police described as a beer flat. Witnesses said she was struck by a bullet fired at random by a patron. They said his name was McDowell and that he was intoxicated.

Mrs. Elvina van Wissink, the friend she came to visit, told the police she introduced Miss Renshaw to Frank Taggart, 30, one of the alleged operators of the flat, and that last night the slain woman went there at his invitation.

Taggart told investigators that Miss Renshaw, McDowell, a man named Johnson, another he knew only as "Ed" and himself sat down to drink beer in the place when suddenly McDowell produced a pistol and began shooting at a radio because he didn't like a program.

He was pacified, Taggart said, but later he resumed the shooting and one of the bullets struck Miss Renshaw in the side. Taggart said he rushed her to a hospital in his car after giving her first aid and then notified the police. When they arrived no members of the party were on the premises.

The police said Richard Flynn, who was arrested for questioning, admitted being the financial backer of the place but declined he knew nothing of the shooting.

UNCLE SAM'S AIDS FLOWER GARDENERS

VARYING SOIL CONDITIONS, PERSONAL TASTES MAKE "SPECIALTY GARDENS"

Rock gardens and their care teach valuable lessons in plant management and special soil modifications.

This is the eleventh of a series of articles on flower gardening written especially for NEA Service and Post-Crescent.

BY DR. W. M. A. TAYLOR
Chief, Bureau of Plant Industry U. S. Department of Agriculture

Specialty gardens are those that are out of balance when compared with the average. They usually are the result of some special preference or a consequence of special conditions.

The first of the rock gardens probably grew out of a desire to transform and beautify rocky sites not suitable for more conventional gardens. Rock gardens are now almost in the fad stage, and in some instances have been developed with less of an eye to beauty than to current vogue. Nevertheless, they are teaching valuable lessons in plant management and soil modifications and when some of the less ornamental rock piles have been cleared away to permit the pursuit of still another fad, the gardens of America will surely have benefited by the introduction of many new plants and varieties.

Other specialty gardens result from marked preference for and admiration of a certain flower, family of flowers, or colors of flowers. Rose, iris, peony, dahlia, chrysanthemum, lily, tulip, and geranium gardens are familiar. Sometimes these are developed to the exclusion of other plants. Some of the most charming gardens, however, develop a considerable collection of a favorite variety and arrange the rest of the garden to supplement and intensify the beauty of the favorites.

The Personal Touch
Some gardeners plan specifically for a long and continuous season of bloom, and make a point of having no day in the season without fresh bloom. Still others favor the "blue garden," including only flowers in harmonious shades of blue.

TOMORROW: Hardiness.

CONGRESSMEN FROM WISCONSIN HELPED DEFEAT SALES TAX

Schneider Lined Up With Badger Delegation in Opposition to Bill

(Post-Crescent—Washington Bureau)
Washington—As opponents of the sales tax, including the entire Wisconsin delegation in the house, marshaled their forces prior to final voting on the measure and hammered away in behalf of amendments to provide other revenue sources from higher income and estate taxes, etc., statements by Badgers in opposition to the sales tax and in favor of substitute amendments succeeded each other in rapid succession.

Representative Thomas R. Amble of Elkhorn Tuesday issued a statement condemning the sales tax as not only unjust but economically unsound and calculated to further decrease the purchasing power of the country.

Amble early announced himself as opposed to the sales tax as did the other Wisconsin Progressives, including Reps. George J. Schneider of Appleton, Conrad Boileau of Wausau, Gardner Withrow of LaCrosse, Hubert Peavy of Washburn, Charles A. Kading of Watertown, and James A. Frear of Hudson.

Representative Michael K. Reilly of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin's only member of the house was the last member of the house delegation from the Badger state to announce his position to the sales tax. When the revenue bill containing the sales tax provision was first introduced to the house, Reilly declined to state his position but Tuesday indicated that he was preparing a statement in opposition to the sales tax provision to introduce in the Congressional Record.

Similarly determined in their opposition to the measure were Representative William H. Stafford and John C. Schafer of Milwaukee, Republican stalwarts.

Their opposition to the measure joining with that of the lone Wisconsin Democrat, Reilly, and the united Progressive front against the sales tax, brought about one of those rare occasions when the Badger delegation in the house was united.

"ALL-BRAN LIVES UP TO REPUTATION"

Her Constipation Overcome by This Delicious Cereal

If you are troubled with constipation, read Miss Bundy's enthusiastic letter:

"I would like to congratulate the one who originated ALL-BRAN. It really does live up to its reputation when it is said to 'relieve constipation.'"

"I used to feel poor all the time—just down and out—and after reading an advertisement in a magazine about ALL-BRAN I got a box. It has evermore helped me, and it is not hard at all to eat."—Miss Mary Bundy, Bennettsville, S. C.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much safer than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Play Will Be Given At Church

KENNETH SAWYER GOOD-MAN'S one-act drama, "Dust of the Road," will be given at 7:30 Sunday evening at the Congregational church. The play is based on the story of a man and his wife, hitherto honest, now struggling with a desire to keep money not rightfully theirs. The play introduces a religious, semi-mystical element showing what would happen if Judas, the betrayer of Christ, were free to come to them on a certain night and convince them of their impending disaster by being himself their example of one who succumbed to a money temptation.

The action of the play takes place late at night in the living room of the middle-western farm home. The lights are dim and one sees only the faint weird glow on the face of the tramp, Judas, and the stricken figure of the man and the woman as Judas convinces them that there is only one way to save the joy of living in their hearts.

The cast includes Peter Steele, Carl Wettengel; Prudence Steele, Josephine Buchanan; an old man, Robert Williams; and the tramp, Wesley F. Bradburn. Jerome Watts is in charge of the scenery, Angelina Kison has charge of costumes and properties, and John Reeve and William Zuehlke will take care of lighting. The play is created by Josephine Buchanan. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Christian Mothers' society of St. Joseph church will recite the rosary for Mrs. John Berg at 7:30 Friday night at the Wichmann Funeral home. Mrs. Berg was a member of the society.

Christian Endeavor society of Memorial Presbyterian church will meet at 8:30 Sunday night at the church. Elmer Drake will be the leader and his topic will be Easter.

Child Will Fight For His Mother

BY ANGELA FATEH
When you say, "Your mother," to a child, use your tenderest tone. Put all the reverence and respect you feel for your own mother into your voice. Feel it. Otherwise don't use those words to any child. It is responsible to find that there are people who do not understand that. They are angry with a child for some reason or other, perhaps justly so, and they make the fatal mistake of saying in scornful tones, "If your mother had taught you—." Then comes the deluge.

The child will rally to the defense of his mother in the face of any odds. He loves to fight in her defense. It is a primitive instinct that never fails to come to the surface when it is challenged, and before that it is an attitude that is applauded by every other child, and grownup too. There is no greater mistake than calling that instinct out without good cause.

When a teacher speaks to a child of his mother it should be with the utmost respect and reverence in her tone. No matter what the child has done. No matter how mistaken his mother may appear to be. Never under any circumstances make the slightest reflection upon her. If you do your cause is lost. The boy will center on the fact that you have affronted his mother and every other consideration is swept aside. And public opinion is with him. Mother is to be called on to strengthen your hands, but never, never, called in as a proof and a cause for her child's ill doing.

Close relatives sometimes make this mistake. A mother was called away from home and a beloved aunt reigned in her stead. One day the child seemed quite out of hand. They started, they spilled their food on the tablecloth, they ignored Aunt Helen's reproofs and corrections until she lost all patience and discretion and said, "Well, I should have thought that your mother would have taught you some manners."

Instantly the war was on. "Let mother alone, Aunt Helen. If we are bad it isn't her fault. You haven't any right to talk like that about her. She's our mother."

Everybody ought to know that. It is most unfair to strike a child through his mother. Never speak of her save in terms of praise, respect or affection. You can always win a smile from a child, if you praise his mother. You can also count upon his black wrath if you utter a word against her.

Go the other way round. Call on mother's influence when you want to sustain a child. Say something laudatory about the way mother does what her opinion is, what the child can do to please her. Keep telling him that he reflects credit upon her—whenever you get the chance. Keep before him the idea that she expects much from him and how proud she is of him. You will get much further that way.

When you have trouble with a child leave his mother out of the question. The less said about her then, the better. It is only in his high, successful moments that a child can bear to have his mother spoken about, and even then, one must know how. The relationship between children and their mothers is a peculiar and sacred one. It is best left between them. Certainly it ought never to be used as a weapon against a child.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Effective Monday, Appleton post-office patrons will receive closed pouch service from Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, it was announced this morning by postal officials. The mail will arrive here in the Chicago and Northwestern railroad at 7:30 in the evening, daily except Sundays. It will carry mail from the west, which is brought to Oshkosh on the Soo Line road.

Garner's Fellow Townsman Want Him To Be President

Washington—Your correspondent has just had the privilege of meeting one of Speaker Jack Garner's old fellow townsman from Texas, John F. Robinson, who used to be sheriff of Val Verde-co.

Robinson was born in Uvalde and was there when Garner came, in his early twenties, to practice law. The ex-sheriff is a jolly, nervy, tanned little Texan bubbling over with enthusiasm for his old pal, and when he left the speaker's office headed south he was promising to stop off at Houston and San Antonio to make sure the boys and girls there are on their toes in the big boom for Garner for president.

URGE "HOARDERS" OF MONEY TO PUT IT IN CIRCULATION

Find Postal Savings Grew Enormously in Last Four Months

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—President Hoover urged all hoarders of money, as a patriotic duty, to forget their fears and restore their "slacker dollars" to circulation by conservative investment or deposit in "sound" banks. That led certain newspapers, anxious to help, to inquire around as to how a timid hoarder might determine accurately whether a given bank was sound. No entirely satisfactory recipe was advised.

The most common advice is that one consult a banker in whom one has confidence. But it is obvious enough that the hoarders, now estimated to have $1,300,000,000 hidden away, lack complete confidence in bankers.

It is also admitted that many citizens cannot figure out very much on the basis of bank statements, since they do not demonstrate the extent of liquidity, and hoarders may have feared not necessarily because they were unsound but often because depositors became frightened and began to withdraw their money in large amounts.

Still being anxious to do something about this dangerous hoarding, however, one turns to consideration of the Postal Savings System—officially referred to as "a refuge of the timid." In other words, postal savings is considered the hoarder's haven. There is always a rush to it in times of depression and doubt, which is why in the last 30 months the number of postal savings depositors has increased from 417,000 to 1,117,000 and deposits have jumped from $154,000,000 to $556,000,000.

"The faith of the United States of America is solemnly pledged to the payment of deposits with accrued savings deposit certificates, which one receives in lieu of a bankbook and come in denominations of from $1 to $500, give the depositor that iron-clad assurance."

But, although the federal government thus guarantees the deposit, interest is paid at the rate of only 2 per cent.

Money hidden in the old sock or in the mattress is always theoretically in danger and draws no interest. Some people go crazy worrying about it. But the reason postal savings deposits are now considered vastly preferable to hoarding, from the broad national patriotic viewpoint advanced by Hoover, is that the government loans the money to the banks, which instead of the ordinary rate of interest on savings deposits, only have to pay the government 2 1/2 per cent for its use. Thus the money gets back into the credit system.

Banks in the community have first call on such money. For collateral they must furnish bonds supported by taxing power or bonds authorized by acts of Congress.

Postal savings records show that the system has received old, worn, smelly, tattered, greasy, stained or rusty money drawn from ordinary repositories as hollow trees, jugs, well bottoms, mattresses, cabbage patches, flower pots, and bars, sugar bowls and cigar boxes.

Some persons travel with thousands of dollars sewn in their clothes. Others stay indoors for years, fearing to leave the house in which they keep a lifetime's savings. One man kept his hoard in a horse collar, but one day he found his horse eating the collar—and dashed to the post office.

About 7500 post offices accept savings deposits and the maximum deposit allowed is $25,000, although each six months deposits may be converted into equally safe postal savings 2 1/2 per cent bonds.

Postmaster General Brown has proposed raising the deposit limit to $5000, but bankers have just persuaded a subcommittee of the House post office committee to turn down such proposals. They contended that it would tend further to diminish confidence.

ernment revenue by $20,000,000 in the last half year through reduced receipts from duty on great imports. Wheat duties recently have brought in 8 percent of the state's annual revenue.

Much wheat has been bought from South America in the past but Italian importers this year think it likely more than ever will be bought there because of the price particularly in Argentina.

TIMBER LAND MEN ASKED TO CONCLAVE

Plan to Discuss Tax Delinquency Situation at Milwaukee

Milwaukee — (P) — Fifty timber land owners, and representatives of woodworking industries in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, have been invited to attend a conference here March 29 and 30 concerning the tax delinquency situation, Earl W. Tinker, federal regional forester, announced today.

In view of the rising tide of tax delinquencies in northern counties of the lake states, Tinker said, the time has come when these men must "lay their cards on the table" relative to public policy.

"Owners of large timber tracts have been paying taxes as a matter of public policy," but many of them have about reached their limit," Tinker said. "If they dump their acreage back on the townships, counties and states, it will mean a huge additional taxation burden spread all through the states."

Tinker said the men who will attend the conference represent ownership of upwards of 10,000,000 acres of timber land in the three states. He estimated Wisconsin now has 5,000,000 acres of tax delinquent land, Minnesota 6,000,000 and Michigan 10,000,000.

Among topics to be discussed and deferred taxation, methods for relief from excessive local taxation, public regulation of operations on private land, the place the national forests should occupy in stabilizing the wood using industry and public responsibility for fire protection and reforestation.

T. A. HAS BIG ROLE IN CITY, TEACHER SAYS

Organization Establishes Closer Harmony, Miss Kobler Points Out

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Addressing a group of mothers of the north side McKinley school the Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon, Miss Leah Kobler, formerly of this city and now principal of the Lake Gluff school in Shawano, outlined what she considered to be the fundamental goals of a Parent-Teacher's association. Miss Kobler's subject was "Parents and Teachers, A Participating Partnership."
"The organization should mean more to a community than perhaps any other," she said, "because its goals are non-sectarian, non-commercial, and non-partisan. The united strength of parents and teachers should be the double strength of either group alone. It would be worthwhile to parents and teachers, and should provide the best for children."
Miss Kobler stated that the entrance of her school into the interests of the Parent-Teachers organization began about eight years ago. Only after long and careful research into findings of the most complete surveys of the day, she pointed out, did the Shorewood school order be established.
"Opinions," it was found, were about equally divided as to the benefits to be derived from the association. It was found that in many cases the work accomplished by the association in different points of the nation was unimportant and superficial, sometimes harmful. On the other hand, it was shown that when associations were formed, wholeheartedly and with the best thought of the good of children, parents and teachers the results were far-reaching and of great good.
Describes Program
Miss Kobler spoke freely of the part that association work has played in her school, describing the program which deals with a multitude of subjects, all of which are intended to further the interests of the school children. The program has been accomplished was brought out. Welfare work, social affairs, study of mental hygiene, the creation of social contacts with teachers, the intermingling of parents themselves are only a few of the points touched upon in the course of a year, she said.
Miss Kobler believes that a closer harmony has been established because of the existence of the association. She pointed out the wholehearted benefit derived from the simple pooling of ideas. Parents bring their grievances to the Parent-Teachers meetings, and teachers and parents alike are able to agree at a saving of time she said. That school reaps the benefit was illustrated by the citing of incidents gleaned from the speaker's personal observation.
Miss Kobler paid a tribute to those who have planned and executed the building of the new high school. "Our own fine schools are no finer than this one which your children will enjoy. It will stand for a hundred years, and its building is an achievement far greater than you can possibly know."
She concluded by saying that the best of the worthwhileness of the P. T. A. could be found in self-imposed questions "Has it helped me to be stronger for the eternal right of every question? Am I stronger for having been a member? Does membership lend a dignity to every undertaking, and am I more conscious of what is worthwhile and splendid?"
Mothers of McKinley school were hosts at the close of the meeting where coffee and cake were served to the assembly. Those on the hostess committee included Mrs. William Dent, Mrs. Edna Dalley, Mrs. Earl Lindner, Mrs. Louis Walner, Mrs. Margaret Morack, Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Mrs. F. S. Andrews. Plans have been made for a series of card parties beginning next week to raise money to aid in the payment of band instruments.

A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.
A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.
It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready; in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

MICHIGAN TAX AID PROGRAM IS READY

Brucker's Proposal to Be Presented Next Week to Legislature

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—The tax relief program Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker will present to the legislature next week was completed today. Only the finishing touches were needed to whip his message into shape.

The governor consistently declined to disclose prior to the convening of the special legislative session next Tuesday what measures he will recommend. There were persistent reports that he may propose the submission of an income tax amendment to the voters next November. He is expected to advocate changes in the banking laws, return of additional highway funds to the counties, some amendments to the bonding laws and possibly cuts in the pay of certain state officials and re-entrenchment in state operating expenditures.

If an income tax proposal is included in the administration program it presumably would suggest a constitutional amendment to permit a graduated levy. It is believed the objectives would be to first retire the state property tax and second reduce school taxes.

It is believed certain the governor will advocate the return to the counties of the balance of the revenue from automobile license plates. They now receive about $10,000,000 a year. If the entire amount was apportioned back they would get twice that. It is possible the governor will link with his apportionment recommendation a proposal that the absorption of township roads by the counties be completed at once and that the weight tax revenues hereafter support all county and township routes.

While the governor does not contemplate asking the legislature to fix the salaries of all state employees on a classified economy budget, he may, it is reported, recommend a general cut of 10 or 15 per cent in the pay of designated officials and also may propose re-entrenchment in state operating expenses to the extent of about $2,000,000 a year.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU

By MARY BLAKE "ARIES"

If March 26th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m., from 1:45 p. m. to 3 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 8:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 12:45 p. m., and from 4:30 p. m. to 6 p. m.

The material side of life, the more active interests and pleasures and work in general, will not be particularly favored by the Stars on March 26th. It is an unusually good time for serious thought and study. Authors, research workers, those in church work, musicians and teachers should find it an inspirational time.

The child born on this March 26th will have a winsome, loving nature, but will not have a forceful character. It will have a riotous imagination, considerable optimism, and will be a bunch of nervous energy. It will not try to excel in its school work, and will not express any special talents.

The uniformity of your disposition is one of the most pleasing things about your character. There are few inconsistencies in your make-up, and your faults and your virtues are exhibited alike to everybody. You do not change color to suit an occasion or to impress an audience. Nobody could be more unaffected and natural than you are, and you are indifferent as to what people think of you. The world is at liberty to accept or reject you as it pleases.

You are not content with small standards of living, and you mean to be something more than a cog in a wheel. You have an analytical mind, and pick things to pieces until you understand the importance of the tiniest detail. Your profundity of knowledge about many things is sometimes boring to people who are satisfied to only seem to know things. You never assume interests or attitudes. You never waste a minute, and your mind and hands are usually usefully occupied. You do not like knick-knacks and gewgaws about you, and have little time for toys.

You like the thinkers and doers of the world, no matter what or who they are. You are not a social snob, and the only passport to your friendship is brains or character. Affairs of romance will play only a secondary part in your life.

Successful People Born March 26th:

- 2—David H. Storer, physician and naturalist.
- 3—Edward Bellamy, author.
- 4—William Lecky, historian.
- 5—George F. Loring, architect.

M'Crea, Back In U.S., Is Expert Tree Jumper

BY JESSIE HENDERSON (Copyright, 1932, by Conn. Press)

Hollywood —(CPA)—If Joel McCrea goes jumping from the top of one lamp pole to another along Hollywood boulevard any of these days, it's only the Hawaiian influence. He is merely keeping in practice in case they want to make retakes of scenes in "The Bird of Paradise."

McCrea, just returned from Honolulu, learned while there to leap from tree to tree. He was playing hero to Dolores Del Rio's heroine and one bit of film called for a ten foot swim dive from this coconut palm to that.

"Try it yourself when you have a few minutes of leisure and want real exercise," McCrea suggested today. "It's great for the muscles of the back, especially if you do a fall such as the writers put into this picture. Not content with making me climb a tree about the height of the Empire building, they had me tumble out of it when attempting a jump to what was practically the Woolworth tower. I mean, it looked that high from where I sat.

Trees Are Slippery
"One glance at that tree proved there wouldn't be any trouble about falling out of it. The big problem was how to get into it. The darn thing is like ice. It was so slippery. No branches to hang onto either. From my point of view the picture began to look like a merry, merry outing with me out most of the time."

"But the gardener at the hotel was an expert at tree jumping. He could sail from one palm to the next as if he were on a rope. He proved to be so good an instructor that I didn't tumble once except when the plot called for it. They ought to introduce tree jumping in Hollywood. It's better than tennis if you want to take off weight. You grow thin just worrying about where you'll land."

"Another playful habit in Hawaii is the tea slide. You pick a smooth hill and seat yourself on a toboggan made up of twenty big elephant ear leaves tied together with raffia. This is awfully reducing, too."

McCrea went to the Hawaiian Islands with a pretty good sun tan acquired at Malibu beach and he acquired more of it learning to wrestle with palm trees. When they were ready to shoot the picture they found the hero darker than the natives and they had to put dark makeup on the yellow native complexion in order to even things up.

The wood duck carries her young around by seizing them by loose skin on the nape of the neck, much in the manner of a cat carrying a kitten.

WINTER MAY BOOST FARM YIELD, ALSO CROP OF BUGS

Harm to Wheat Plantings in Some Sections as Result of Warm Weather

Washington.—The unusual winter of the past season promises to aid farmers in producing bumper crops during the coming year.

A survey of the probable effects of the past mild winter has been taken by J. B. Kincaid, chief of the Division of Agricultural Meteorology of the Weather Bureau, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"The final effects of this weather on the crops of 1932, of course, cannot be told at this time, as any forecast based on present indications might be entirely reversed by the weather of later months," he says.

"From the standpoint of reserve moisture supply the outlook for abundant vegetation is more favorable than it was last year at this time," he continues. "A large reserve of moisture has been stored away in the earth over most of the country since last fall. In fact, the winter alone has given southern California more than a normal year's supply of moisture."

Furnish Moisture
Heavy snows over the western mountains during the past winter have furnished such a heavy pack around the headwaters of the streams of the far west that plenty of irrigation water is assured that section for this year.

Only Florida and the northern great plains suffered from the lack of winter precipitation. Droughts of the past year have handicapped the soil in the northwest, and more than average rainfall will be necessary to bring this land back to normal.

"Moisture which helped raise the bumper crops of 1931 was provided not by heavy rains early in the season, but by many relatively light rains coming at just the right times throughout the summer," Kincaid points out. "The country ran on a shoestring in the matter of precipitation all the year, but the rainfall did not fail."

Frosts May Undo Good
Obviously, no predictions can be made regarding the success of plantings through the effect of the winter's mild temperature until there is some assurance that spring will bring no disastrous frosts. Early figures show that thermometers east of the Rocky Mountains have given higher readings for the last six months than for any other corresponding period since the Weather Bureau started its records; those in certain parts of the far west have given lower readings than ever before.

So far the abnormally high temperatures have caused some harm to wheat. In some sections early springing milk wheat is overripe and sappy. Danger of frost later on puts this crop in a precarious state.

Fruit in certain sections also has been brought out to a point where it is not in the safest position. Some trees in the south were in bloom the first of February, and these, too, are in danger of frost.

Winter and Insect Pests
Some farmers believe that the mild winter will bring forth insect pests during the coming crop season. J. A. Hyslop, in charge of the Insect-Pest Survey of the Bureau of Entomology, advises that there is no cause for this anxiety at present.

"Although the weather at the time insects emerge from their wintering stages and during the early part of their activity plays an important part in insect outbreaks, its effect during their dormant period is relatively unimportant," he explains.

"Research to determine how eggs, larvae, or pupae, as well as the adults that dig in somewhere for the cold months, respond to various changes in temperature is now under way, but has not advanced far enough to permit any very definite statement."

"Some insect outbreaks, while apparently not greatly affected by weather during the dormant period, are controlled to a large extent by the weather when the insects emerge. For example, grasshoppers, which in May hatch out from eggs laid the preceding fall, may soon become a major pest if the days are warm and bright. However, they may readily succumb to disease if the weather is wet and cloudy."

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THE BEST LAID PLANS

A carefully planned and beautifully played hand at Contract evokes the admiration of partner and opponent alike. While the play is not so important as the bidding, because it is of little importance to score over-tricks and sacrifice games through inadequate estimates of the trick-taking power of the hand, the beauty of the most accurate bidding and the drawing of the most precise inferences as to a partner's holding is entirely marred if the play of the hand results in a defeat where accurate methods would have brought a victory.

Shakespeare may not have had contract in mind when he said the play is the thing, but his admonition deserves the careful consideration of all who follow the game. Accurate play is especially essential when the honor-tricks and playing-tricks in the hand must be stretched to the utmost to make possible the contract undertaken, as is shown in the hand below, played recently in Philadelphia:

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 5 2
♥ 9 8 4
♦ K 7 5
♣ 10 9 8 4 3

N    E
W    S

♠ 4 3
♥ 10 2
♦ A 8 6
♣ Q J 6 5

♠ K J 9 7
♥ K Q 7 6 2
♣ A K 3

The friend who sent this hand did not explain to me exactly how the contract of three no-trump by South was reached. Surely it could not have been by Approach methods, but probably by the deft use of a strategic bid by South or an even more strategic Raise by North on his meager 3 honor-trick holding and distinctly barren hand otherwise.

Against the contract of three no-trump West opened the five of clubs. This trick was won with the 8 in the Dummy and a spade led and the Queen finessed. Holding only six

Who's News Today

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—A "then and now" story of congressional attitudes on taxation—particularly individual attitudes—would make an interesting reading. For instance, here's Congressman John Elliott Rankin of Mississippi, one of the insurgent Democrats, who fought to save the people from the sales tax and said never a word about the "battle of dancing rabbit."
In February, 1925, he offered and eloquently espoused a resolution for an appropriation of $2,500 for a marker to commemorate this epochal 1830 engagement between U. S. soldiers and Choctaw Indians, down in Itawabbe-co, whence he comes. He also asked $2,500, "lest we forget" that critical encounter between the French and the Chickasaws at Ackia, May 20, 1736. In April, 1930, he led the group which wanted an extra $105,000,000 on the bill for veterans' care—administration leaders said it was nearer $1,000,000,000, the way he had it rigged. He is the leading congressional advocate of bigger and better pensions.
Mr. Rankin was a newspaper writer, lecturer and prosecuting attorney down in his home town of Tupelo. He has been in congress since 1921. June 7, 1926, he heaved an ink well, untaxed, at Frederick A. Fenning, District of Columbia commissioner. Frank J. Hogan, Mr. Fenning's lawyer, balanced the budget by splashing Mr. Rankin with a glass of water. Mr. Fenning swung on Mr. Rankin. The judiciary committee intervened. The engagement was inconclusive and is commemorated by no marker whatsoever. They even rubbed out the ink spot.
The beautiful Ann Harding was so determined to be herself that when she acted in Ibsen dramas with Eve Le Gallienne she stuffed cotton in her ears, so she wouldn't unconsciously imitate Miss Le Gallienne. Plans for her amicable divorce from Harold Bannister, announced Thursday disclose the same penchant for figuring things out. She says Mr. Bannister, unhappily eclipsed, and just a mere husband, must likewise have a chance to be himself. Only by recovering his own unshadowed identity can he re-establish himself as an actor.
A daughter of an army colonel of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, Miss Harding went to New York at 17 and got a job as a $12.50-a-week filing clerk with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Using a dictaphone, she saw the necessity of clear enunciation and studied it. She learned a lot about the art of speech. Then, in her business-like way, she picked up a role in "The Inheritors." Susan Glaspell's play at the Provincetown theater. When she appeared in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," the critics discovered her. It was just a turn up the street to stardom and affluence. She awaited no errant winds, just filling her own "sails of destiny." It is said that Col. George Grant Gately disinterested his beautiful self-starting daughter when she went to New York. She is 30 and Harold Bannister is 43.
Down in Pennsylvania, there are old time newspapermen who say that when Harry J. Haas was a reporter he could conjure up a couple of columns out of a weather bulletin. Naturally a man like that would be against deflation, and so, as president of the American Bankers' Association, Mr. Haas warns a senate committee against the "deflationary character" of the Glass banking reform bill. His testimony, with that of Allan M. Pope, president of the Investment Bankers' association is an interesting clarification of the bankers' attitude in the present difficulties. Inside observers previously have insisted that inflation was the medicine which both the bankers and the administration would prescribe. Mr. Haas is vice-president and director of the First National City Bank of Philadelphia. He was first a salesman, then a newspaperman, then a banker. He is lean, baldish and serious, with no patience for "weak self indulgence."

L. C. C. PLACES O. K. ON LOAN FOR RAILROAD

Missouri Pacific Co. to Get $12,800,000 to Adjust N. Y. Account

Washington—(P)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has caused the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve "with some reluctance" an additional loan of $12,800,000 to the Missouri Pacific Railroad company. The approval will take care of, among other things, half of a loan of $11,700,000 held by New York banks which J. P. Morgan and company had notified the carrier must be paid on April 1. Later, however, the banks agreed to carry half the loan until October 1 and the board of directors of the finance corporation voted a loan of $5,850,000 for this purpose subject to approval of the commission.

The commission's decision recited in full the resolution of the finance corporation.

"We are taking the action here with some reluctance," said the commission. "We are not convinced that the reconstruction finance corporation should be expected to take up banks' loans of this character."

"We yield our own views to those of that body which, as we construe the law, is charged by congress with responsibility for determining the question."

The finance corporation resolution was adopted March 18, the same day on which President Hoover called Balthasar H. Meyer, chairman of the finance division of the Interstate Commerce Commission; Charles C. Daves, president of the reconstruction finance corporation; and other government financial experts, and 15 leading railroad executives into conference.

Pass Resolution

After stating that "in the opinion of this board all existing uncertainty as to the disposition of the April 1 maturities of the Missouri Pacific railroad company is detrimental to the general credit situation of the railroad," the corporation resolution said:

"Resolved, that subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission this board authorize a loan to the Missouri Pacific Railroad company to the extent of $5,850,000 which amount is 50 per cent of said railroad company's bank loans maturing April 1, 1932, on condition that the holders of the balance of said bank loans agree to the extension of the payment of said balance of $5,850,000 to a date not earlier than October 1, 1932, and on further condition that there be delivered to this corporation as collateral security for said loan one-half of the collateral now held as security for said $11,700,000 of bank loans and such additional security, if any, as may be recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission or as to this board may hereinafter seem advisable and be it further resolved that the secretary of this corporation be directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Interstate Commerce Commission."

"Although J. P. Morgan and Company were named by the Missouri Pacific in correspondence with the commission as having spoken for the holders of the bank loans, the decision disclosed that they were held jointly by J. P. Morgan and company, Kuhn, Loeb and company, and the Guaranty Trust company of New York."

WALL STREET BRIEFS

New York—(P)—Good Friday found most of the world's financial markets closed. In New York security and commodity exchanges suspended operations, although the banks were open. European markets generally observed the day and some of them will not open until next week. The New York stock and curb exchanges will resume tomorrow, but several commodity markets, including the cotton exchange, closed for the entire weekend.

Wall Street had to wait until tomorrow to see what effect death of the sales tax would have on security prices here. The vote came after the New York close yesterday, but in San Francisco and Los Angeles receipts of the news was followed by a decline in quotations and an increase in trading volume.

Easter retail trade has been considerably smaller than last year, reported from the stores say. Cold weather was partly responsible, but Mr. and Mrs. Public apparently decided to "make the old things do" as far as possible.

Consolidated Oil Corporation, formed through merger of Sinclair Consolidated Oil and the Prairie Consolidated, has applied to the New York stock exchange for listing of 14,311,432 shares of its capital stock.

New bond offerings this week totaled $26,106,000 compared with $25,261,000 last week and $140,606,000 a year ago.

Hide prices made new low records here this week. The decline was attributed chiefly to seasonal slackening in shoe and leather trades.

German Voters Heeded This Poster

Mammoth campaign posters like the one pictured here, alongside a Berlin building, helped to carry President Paul von Hindenburg to victory over his opponents in the bitterly contested German Presidential election. The slogan, "With Him," appears on the poster. Though failing to gain the majority necessary to reelection on the first ballot, the President's success in the second election on April 10 was believed to be assured.

SPIRIT OF CONTEST ON LIVESTOCK MART

Believe Outcome of New Movement Will Affect Prices Next Week

Chicago—(P)—Far from having a holiday aspect, hog trade in the local stockyards today developed a spirit of contest, the outcome of which was bound to affect next week's volume of marketings. Offerings of 22,000, including 8,000 forward straight to packers and 8,000 state hogs in the pens, provided plenty of working material. Sellers' efforts were directed to expunging the sharp slump which pulled values down fully .25c on Thursday's late session, while early operators sought to retain about half of this advantage.

Packers did not hold up buying on the previous day for lack of orders, but they felt the time opportune to prepare for next week's market. Their action was justified by the advance estimate of 21,000 hogs for today. Initial bids on 150 to 220 lb. hogs ranging from $4.35-4.40 looked fully, a dime lower than Thursday's average. Best lights were held at $4.50 and 300 lb. butchers were wanted at $4.00.

Sim receipts of common to fair steers failed to animate buyers in the cattle alleys. Scarcely 1,000 calves were on hand and more interest was shown in them than in matured cattle.

With ample numbers of lambs available in the selling pens for limited Friday requirements, commission men had no easy task to interest local packers, who had checked in 3,100 lambs on direct consignment in the offerings. Twelve market lambs had about the same volume of lambs as a week ago, but the local run was almost twice as large.

RAIL CHIEFS DISAGREE ON ROADS' FUTURE

Some Inclined to Be Optimistic, Others Think Prospects Not Bright

BY FRANK H. MCCONNELL
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York—(P)—While some railroad executives express little optimism over future prospects, there are several who say there is some basis for hope.

It takes the form, they say, of slightly better profits now resulting from the 10 per cent wage reduction. It is reported that a few roads have been encouraged as a result to scale down their original estimates of loan needs from the Reconstruction Finance Corp. The majority of Wall Street executives, however, say this improvement in net results is not enough to do permanent good. Loss of gross business has been too great, they men point out, to warrant belief that wholesale reductions in loan applications will be made.

"One road had estimated its February operating figures would run $700,000 into the red," said one officer, "but the actual figures showed an operating profit of $3,000,000 as a result of economies largely growing out of the wage reduction."

Need More Business

"Pure nonsense," said a grizzled veteran of the railroad business. "Only one thing will permanently help the roads and their prosperity hinges on it: That's an increase in business."

Meanwhile, loan applications continue to pour into the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corp. Last week it was announced that applications had been received from 44 roads asking for a total of $296,000,000. Immediate approval was given to 15 applications aggregating $54,000,000. Additional applications have since been filed, including the $55,813,000 request from the Baltimore and Ohio.

Railroad bankers say full harmony and cooperation exists between the railroads, the commerce commission, the finance corporation and themselves in the task of getting money for the roads. Wall Street looks for an early announcement regarding the April 1 maturity of $11,700,000 Missouri Pacific notes due at the office of J. P. Morgan and Co. There has been considerable discussion as to whether this loan would be extended in part by the bankers or paid off in full by means of a Reconstruction Finance Corp. loan.

Grain Notes

Chicago—(P)—Foreigners apparently recovered some of their confidence yesterday and came into the market as liberal buyers of North American wheat. Sales of about 25,000 bushels of hard winter wheat were estimated while the board indicated 75,000 to 1,500,000 bushels of Manitoba had been taken. It is understood that the latter grain is being taken for shipment from Montreal when navigation opens which accounts for the failure of the recent sales to be reflected in larger clearances. Rye sales were placed at 300,000 to 350,000 bushels and there was also a fair business in barley.

Canadian wheat stocks on March 18 were 156,000,000 bushels compared with 185,000,000 bushels a year ago, as estimated by Sanford Evans. Deliveries at country elevators from Aug. 1 to March 19 were 221,000,000 bushels against 271,000,000 bushels the previous season. Stocks of wheat in store at Pacific coast ports are 13,550,000 bushels compared with 14,827,000 bushels a year ago.

Business in foreign wheat in Germany is at a standstill and offerings of native wheat are small, says Broomhall. Stocks of rye are scarce and the government is again buying foreign sorts, and 94,000 bushels of rye cleared from North America to Germany last week.

Women's Trinkets Will Be Seen, Not Heard This Year

BY DIANA MERWIN
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris—(P)—The accessory trinkets women wear this spring will be seen instead of heard.

Last year clinking necklaces and tinkling bracelets were the order of the day. This year color (built around the simplest designs) is the most important note. Modernistic bangles and futuristic angles have all been subjugated to the tint.

Scarfs and fichus of a bright hue designed to accent the neutral tones of the frock will entirely replace necklaces in many smart costumes.

A swirl of Scotch plaid or striped silk twisted about the throat is often the sole ornament worn with the dress.

Necklaces and bracelets, when worn at all, are made from extraordinary scraps. A half dozen bright colored chenille threads, bits of gaily painted wood, a circle of celluloid or a twist of kitchen oilcloth are the stuffs of which they are made. They are always chosen to accent and harmonize with the color of the frock.

The sparkling bits of paste made to imitate precious stones are gone except in clips which promise to be worn much on formal day frocks. These are made of brilliant diamonds centered with a big oblong stone imitating a ruby, sapphire or emerald and are worn at some unexpected spot at the neckline.

Bags likewise reflect the color note. They are generally made of rough pebbly leather or boarded calf in a simple medium pouch design, but their colors run the gamut from brilliant reds, greens and blues to the duller shades of all these tints. Blacks, browns, beiges and grays are also shown for the conservative woman.

Colored gloves exactly matching the costume in tone are also worn, although these are never seen in brilliant tints.

bailed out and dropped about 1200 feet before he pulled the rip cord. "I was wearing two 'chutes in accordance with regulations," Hartman recounts. "The big 'chute was on my back and I had another emergency 'chute strapped to my chest."

"When the big 'chute opened I fell clear out of the harness. It was just pure luck that my right arm caught in two of the silk shrouds leading to the umbrella. The shock broke my arm and prevented the 'chute from opening all the way and checking the speed of my fall."

"I was falling too fast to land safely, and if I hadn't landed in a marsh in which I sank up to my knees, I'm afraid I'd have had at least a couple of broken legs."

In Respirator Five Months; He's "Gamest Kid" In U. S.

Syracuse, N. Y. (P)—Clarence Hastings, 14 who for five months has spent about 22 out of each 24 hours in a Drinker respirator at City Hospital, with only his head showing, has been dubbed "the gamest kid in America."

A letter with only that phrase for address, written by a youngster in Perth Amboy, N. Y., reached the bedridden, fair-haired Kings Ferry lad at the hospital the other day with some 5,000 other cards, letters and packages from every part of the country.

HOUSE VOTES DOWN PLAN TO O. K. BEER TAX

Rejects Proposal to Assess 2.75 Per Cent Beer 3 Cents Per Pint

of the ways and means committee. After the executive meeting today, Crisp said:

"I have no spleen of bitterness but I want to try to get something to raise this enormous amount of revenue needed to balance the budget. I hope by Monday the sub-committee will have a concrete plan to submit to the full committee. The members promised to work day and night and Sunday if necessary in order to prepare their recommendations."

Crisp said he thought that with the defeat of the sales tax, the temper of the house would cool off rapidly.

He added that he thought each item recommended as a substitute would be considered individually.

Won't Return Entire Bill

No proposition to send the entire bill back to the committee as desired by President Hoover would be considered, he explained.

The Georgian also said he did not plan to call for a Democratic caucus on the substitute plan, preferring to permit the house to write the remainder of the bill on the floor in order that it may accept the responsibility for the substitutes inserted.

This treasury deficit is a Republican deficit, he said. The Republicans have been in charge of this government for 19 years, but it is the duty of the house, under the constitution, to propose levies to pay the cost of running the government. I do not regard it as a political question, but a governmental question.

"I am going to continue the policy of considering it a governmental question."

"I am going to continue the policy of considering it a governmental question. Republican members of the committee had as much to do with formulating the bill as the Democrats."

"Our purpose has been to formulate a bill that would return the revenue to balance the budget."

Earlier Proposals

Stripped of its general sales tax by overwhelming vote of the house, the one-time billion dollar revenue bill today was a mere hulk.

The defeated leaders fell back on the original tax proposal, but heavy resistance on automobiles and radios, for a 1-cent tax on gasoline, stamp taxes on checks and drafts; 3-cent postage and similar levies.

The new taxes will have to produce nearly $600,000,000 to take the place of the general sales tax and to reestablish financial stability for the government. Several of the proposals offered in the treasury program are expected to meet a hard fight but the leaders of the forces which defeated the sales tax joined in calling for a balanced budget.

From callers at the White House came word that President Hoover, deeply disturbed at the 223 to 153 defeat given the sales tax, believed the bill should be entirely rewritten by the ways and means committee, rather than undergo a patching-up process on the floor. But Crisp showed no signs of acquiescing to this plan and the other Democratic leaders were backing him up.

The stupendous victory of combined Democratic and Republican groups which refused to follow the regular leader, was called a victory "for the common people" by their spokesmen, LaGuardia (N. Y.), Doughton (D., N. C.) and Rankin (D., Miss.).

"Now we have won our victory against the principle of a sales tax," said LaGuardia, "we should cooperate with the committee in selecting sources for taxation to balance the budget."

But he promised no wholesale acceptance of the treasury program and probably will seek to supplant portions of it with plans of his own, including a tax on stock exchange transactions.

A sensation in the finale of the sales tax revolt was the desertion of the cause by Representative Brown of Tennessee, Democratic chairman of the appropriations committee, who went so far as to advocate abandoning for the present any idea of budget-balancing. His post is that of "watchdog of the treasury" and he heads the special committee on economy which hopes to reorganize the government executive agencies to effect big savings.

RETURNS TO PAY 40 YEAR OLD DEBT

Toledo, O.—Forty years ago Jack Caruthers borrowed $100 from the late Oliver Bond's old Merchants and Clerks Bank. He recently returned to Toledo to pay off the loan, but he could find neither creditor nor debt.

The banking department of the Security Savings Bank and Trust Co., which took over the old Merchant's house, can find no record of the note Caruthers signed, and is also unable to determine whether the note may have been paid by the late Bond and wiped from the banking records.

Caruthers now lives in Antwerp, Ohio.

MORTUARY DAMAGE SUIT IS ADJOURNED

Baraboo—(P)—Shortly before the case against D. W. Clasen, president of the American Mortuary company, today was adjourned until Tuesday, he testified Mrs. Bessie Bemmerl said she didn't care what he did with the body of her husband, Joseph Bemmerl, Jr.

Clasen is accused of refusing to release the body for burial and the widow is seeking $2,500 damage for grief caused by the undertaker's reputed action.

Clasen said he didn't give a damn what I did with the body and that was the reason I obtained attachment papers for part of her property to guarantee payment for funeral expenses," Clasen said.

Moscow—(P)—A flat denial that a German specialist was coming to Moscow to treat Joseph Stalin, Russia's strong man, came from authoritative quarters today. The Communist party leader's health was said to be normal in every respect.

A report from Berlin yesterday said that Prof. Hermann Zondek, was going to Moscow ostensibly to lecture, but that it was rumored he would treat Stalin.

MANY AMERICAN FIRMS CONTINUE TO SHOW PROFIT

Number of Corporations Show Greater 1931 Earnings Than in 1930

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Wall Street, New York (CPA)—
There is still a considerable body of American corporations able to show a satisfactory earning capacity during a period of depression. As the complete figures of results for 1931 are prepared and made available for public review, it becomes apparent that in many industrial and public utility companies there is an astonishing vitality and a prospect for maintenance for some time to come of present dividend payments.
One list that has just been prepared by a prominent banking house includes 85 corporations which show a higher net revenue last year than in 1930. The total net of these companies in 1931 was approximately $330,000,000 compared with slightly less than $300,000,000 in the year previous. It included about 39 whose shares are listed on the New York stock exchange and are there actively dealt in from day to day.
The significant feature of this analysis is the gain in net earnings per share over that in what would now be called the fairly prosperous year of 1930. The average net per share of the 85 companies last year was 6.75 per cent. In 1930 it was 5.35 per cent.

Utilities Look Best
There were ten companies showing earnings on their stocks last year that were not able to reveal any profit remaining to the credit of their stock in the preceding year. An additional gain should be credited to the fact that, in a number of instances, there were more shares of specific concerns outstanding in 1931 than in 1930, so the comparison is at first glance, in the list there is only one conspicuous railroad which enjoyed more prosperity last year than in 1930. In general it may be said that the best exhibit was by the power and light and telephone companies.

This review supplements figures revealed earlier in the month by a prominent bank covering the net worth of 900 industrial corporations at the end of 1931. This was based on returns from practically all kinds of manufacturing and distributing organizations, including those that had suffered a severe reaction in their earnings and others that had benefited by the shifting directions of trade. Their total net worth was approximately $18,000,000. The remarkable fact was that the net worth of these 900 concerns at the end of last December was only one-half of 1 per cent below that of the same period in 1930.
Many comparisons have been made between conditions in 1921 and in 1931. Some are favorable; others have a reverse trend. In general, however, the statistics indicate the more substantial character of corporation finances today than at the height of the last previous panic and are highly encouraging. The main differences between the two periods in the balance sheets of corporations is in the reduced bonded debt, smaller bank loans, lower inventories and a much higher proportion of cash and marketable securities in current assets than at any other time in American corporation history. This is reflected in the tenacity with which numerous companies have held to a dividend policy, despite the fact that their earnings have been dropping off month by month for nearly two years.

A third compilation that has just been published by New York stock exchange firm indicates the contrast in the net working capital of over 30 corporations whose shares are listed on the "big board." A few of them are worth nothing. Bethlehem Steel, for instance, at the close of 1931 had a net working capital in excess of $115,000,000 against less than $33,000,000 10 years previous.
General Electric showed $190,000,000 against $151,000,000. General Motors nearly $119,000,000 compared with less than $90,000,000. International Harvester about $235,000,000 compared with $153,000,000. Liggett & Myers tobacco Co. $151,000,000 against less and $57,000,000 and Montgomery Ward about $95,000,000 against less than $15,000,000. Woolworth had nearly $53,000,000 against $30,000,000 more than ten years previous.

The United States Steel Corporation was the only important member of the group whose net working capital at the end of 1931 was lower than in the previous decade, the difference being $55,000,000. The total at the end of 1931, however, was nearly $481,000,000.

MAY ADOPT SAUK-CO VIGILANTE SYSTEM

Madison—(AP)—Wisconsin county prosecutors are studying, with a view toward adoption, the organization of vigilantes in Sauk-co. It was revealed at the recent meeting of the state district attorneys here.
The 59 vigilantes of the county, originally organized by the county bankers association with the support of an aroused citizenry, can form a blockade of the county's highways 20 minutes after an alarm. Clifford LaMar, the county attorney said.
The organization has headquarters in offices of the sheriff and district attorney with the latter as its controlling head. Mr. LaMar reported that warnings equipped with reflector lights and reading "Stop. Sheriff's Department" are now being constructed. They will be distributed for use among the vigilantes.

24,012 PHEASANTS DISTRIBUTED IN YEAR

Madison—(AP)—The state conservation commission distributed 24,012 pheasants and 34,442 pheasant eggs in Wisconsin last year and in preparation to fill applications for the current year it was announced today.
All applications must be received in the office of the conservation commission.

FIND MANY USES FOR ASPEN WOOD

American Foresters No Longer View This Tree With Contempt

Milwaukee—(AP)—Not so long ago an aspen tree inspired in the minds of American foresters a feeling that was almost contempt.

It was rubbish in the woods. It was not much of a tree beside the stately hemlock or the towering Norway pine. Its wood was too soft for any sturdy use and its leaves trembled, as if the lowly aspen were aware of its meanness.

But the forester has changed his attitude toward the aspen. Industry has found a thousand uses for the tree. At the Milwaukee office of the forestry service revolution in feeling is so complete that the raw-boned outdoorsmen whose life work is among the trees, in this Easter season are recalling a sentimental legend. An old story has it that the Cross of Christ was made of aspen and that ever since the crucifixion the aspen leaves have trembled.

It is estimated that aspen now occupies 21,000,000 acres of land in the Lake States forest region. It grows quickly, so aspen is the first to cover the denuded hillsides after fires. The numerous fires consequently have increased the aspen acreage until now it is estimated that in Wisconsin it covers 7,000,000 acres, in Minnesota 9,000,000 acres and in Michigan 5,000,000 acres.
The wood is used extensively for match making and manufacture of excelsior. The better grades provide finishing material for houses and the paper industry has turned to it. In paper making the soft wood is used largely as filler for better grades of pulp.

Aspen seeds are so light that it takes two or three million to make a pound. Consequently they are carried great distances by wind and they germinate almost immediately if they fall on moist ground. Trees are fast growing and short-lived, seldom reaching an age of 100 years.

Parliament by April 5 if the requests are to be considered, Paul D. Koller, conservation director, said today.
Principal operations were maintained at the main state game farm at Fish Creek in Door county. The Moon lake game farm near Kewaskum was leased by the conservation department from the Milwaukee chapter of the Isaac Walton League and was in full operation last year. A subsidiary game farm was also operated at the state prison at Wausau.

NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT MAKING BIG HIT

Grocers Say Housewives Welcome Many Improvements in Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit

Local grocers have pronounced the new Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit one of the most up-to-date food products on the market. It offers many outstanding and popular features. For one thing, the biscuits are toasted a golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side.

The new Kellogg biscuit is also baked in a more convenient, economical size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl—and you get 15 to the package instead of a dozen.

Mothers will especially be interested in the fact that every package is certified for food value by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia. These new biscuits are considered a splendid food for both adults and children. With either hot or cold milk, you achieve a well-balanced amount of vitamins, minerals, proteins and carbohydrates.

The Kellogg Company uses a special process of "pressure-cooking" which retains all the food value of the whole wheat and makes it very easy to digest. At the same time it develops delicious flavor.
These improved biscuits can be identified by the name, Kellogg's, and the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SEE ROOSEVELT CONSENTING TO DRY REFERENDUM

No Outright Announcement
but His Lieutenants Give Indication

BY BYRON PRICE
Washington—A few rays of light are beginning to pierce the fog of democratic dissension over prohibition.

Two Roosevelt-dominated state conventions—in Washington and Minnesota—have adopted planks for a referendum by states. Could this have happened without definite prompting from Governor Roosevelt himself?

As politics go, it seems unlikely.
Roosevelt is on record as favoring outright repeal, yet his lieutenants have shown a continuing disposition to be satisfied with a referendum.

The Roosevelt forces, if they do not actually control the national convention, are certain to be a very powerful factor in it.

It was a referendum that Chairman John J. Raskob favored at the spring national committee meeting.
Can the extreme cry wing of the party withstand the Roosevelt influence, plus the Raskob influence, plus whatever other elements of strength they may muster?

To answer such a question is beyond the province of this writer. It is sufficient for the present to observe where, and in what manner, the line of cleavage is forming.

Rely On Hurley

The two brightest stars are missing from the troupe of 1932 republican spellbinders, and party heads are pondering how to fill the void.
Charles Evans Hughes, now chief justice, is barred by court traditions from stump-speaking. That other headline of the Hoover orators, William E. Borah, has traveled so far off the Hoover reservation since '28 that no one expects him to return in '32.

Much reliance probably will be placed in Patrick Hurley, the secretary of war.

Doubtless, too, the blunt but dramatic forensics of Charles G. Dawes, campaigner-in-chief of the Coolidge-Dawes ticket in 1924, will be a stellar feature of the republican bill.

The dramatic personae of the democratic stump-show cannot be predicted until certain other matters have been settled.

Has Siemp Retired?

If C. Bascom Siemp's recent resignation as republican national committeeman for Virginia really means his retirement from politics, that is big political news far beyond the boundaries of the Old Dominion.

At a long succession of national conventions he has shown up with a substantial bloc of southern delegates in his vest pocket.

He is one of the quietest but most thorough workers in the whole republican vineyard. He has been quietly at work recently, too, and many politicians give him credit for the present prospect of an almost solid (republican) south in favor of Hoover's renomination.

His old friends do not believe he can break the habits of years. They expect southern delegations for a long time to come to show the influence of this fine Virginian hand.

Baker Mystery

Whether Newton D. Baker really is a candidate for president remains one of the deepest mysteries in a democratic situation rich in mystery.

Political observers found circumstantial evidence of presidential aspirations in his statement disclaiming any intention to advocate a League of Nations plank this year.
But consider this:

For three days recently he was in Washington, attending a conference of racial and religious groups. The conference climax was an evening address by the former war secretary himself, timed to reach the greatest radio audience.

It was a wonderful opportunity.
Yet Mr. Baker, a man of recognized ability as a public speaker, delivered extemporaneously and with no show of oratory, a cursory speech which only twice, in a half hour, stirred his enthusiastic colleagues of the conference to handclapping. He himself told the audience before he finished that he felt he had given no adequate expression to what he had in mind.

Surely, if he is a candidate he is giving the reverse English to the accepted methods of vote making.

EMERGENCY FREIGHT RATES STILL GRANTED

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington — Echoes of the drouth are still being sounded in the granting of emergency freight rates on shipments of livestock feed, hay and straw, from Wisconsin and other north and mid-western states to parched counties and states, by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Commission has just granted permission for establishment and application of such rates until April 30, 1932, from Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa,

WOMAN SENATOR GIVES SECRET OF HAPPY MARRIAGE

Mrs. Caraway Says Principals Should Abide by "Old-fashioned" Rules

BY SUE McNAMARA
Washington—(AP)—Two rules for successful marriage are suggested by Mrs. Hattie Caraway, first woman ever elected United States senator.

One rule is to realize always that the other partner to the marriage contract has outside interests. The other is for the wife to believe in and respect her husband's judgments and decisions.

Though she holds one of the most advanced and modern positions in official life, Mrs. Caraway has very "old-fashioned" ideas regarding marriage.

"Married couples make a mistake in trying to corral every bit of each other's time and personality," she says. "They should have mutual aims and companionship, of course, but they should also respect each other's individuality and freedom."

"A wife who really thinks her husband is always right has smoothed away many marital difficulties. Of course, a woman should marry a man for whom she has respect and admiration in the beginning."

In her senate office, with mail stacked round her and three men secretaries and stenographers at work in an adjoining room, Mrs.
Caraway occasionally slips back into memory of her 39 years of married life.

Nothing pleases her more than a compliment for the late Senator Thaddeus Caraway. She likes to re-

Gives Secret

MRS. HATTIE CARAWAY

call little incidents in her political life.

"He would do a favor for a man he personally disliked, but he thought the man deserved it," she says. "He was always impartial and fair in his decisions."

The little black-gowned senator is showing something of her late husband's firmness in dealing with problems which beset her. She has refused decisively to make any speeches via platform, radio or news reels.

She believes it would be in poor taste so soon after her election.
She will not espouse purely "woman's legislation" just because it is such, though she was besieged on taking office by groups of women championing various measures.
Now they have all fallen back,
the move men, the women lobbyists and the politicians, leaving her pretly much alone to concentrate on her work. She is satisfied.
She goes home at night to the big house in Maryland known as the Lord Calvert mansion, which she has occupied for years. Two sons, both in the army, live with her. A faithful negro servant runs the house.
Sometimes they have hot biscuits, the kind the late Senator Caraway liked. And much of the time the talk is of "Dad."

TAKE A DEEP BREATH OF THAT RICH AROMA FLOATING UP FROM A CUP OF HILLS BROS COFFEE

Bros' patented process—produces a fragrance and flavor no other coffee has

Roasting "a little at a time"
... instead of in bulk ...
gives absolute protection against under-roasting and over-roasting

As the accuracy of the hourglass depends upon an even, continuous flow ...

a little at a time

... so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting —the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously ...
"a little at a time."

You simply can't keep away from a steaming, fragrant cup of Hills Bros. Coffee! You sip and drink and drain the cup—and fill it again and again.

That marvelous flavor is due to Hills Bros.' patented Controlled Roasting process. Instead of roasting in bulk, Hills Bros. roast a little at a time ... as the coffee flows evenly, continuously, through the roasters.

No berry is underdone nor overdone! They have just the roasting required to develop their choicest flavor. And the flavor never varies!

Hills Bros. Coffee is vacuum-packed, and can't go stale. The vacuum process of packing coffee is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. It was originated by Hills Bros. over thirty years ago. There is no magic about a vacuum can—it will not make poor coffee good, but it will keep good coffee fresh.

You may doubt that Hills Bros. Coffee tastes so good. But a cupful will convince you that Controlled Roasting does make a finer flavor! Order Hills Bros.
Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

WIDE VARIETY OF SEEDS FOR EXHIBIT

Exhibition to Be Conducted Saturday in Connection With Fair

BY W. F. WINSEY
Full arrangements have been made for farmers of the vicinity to display samples of the alfalfa, clover, corn, and grass seeds in a show window at the live stock fair grounds in this city at the monthly fair Saturday, according to Walter Wickert chairman of the farmers' committee in charge of the expansion of the fair. Other members of the committee are Nick Palzer and Victor Leppa.

Besides grass seeds and seed grain some farmers may exhibit potatoes, other vegetables, and, at some distance from the seed building, calves and horses. The idea is for the farmers not to bring too much seed or vegetables to the fair but rather to bring small quantities as samples. Put in to produce this plan will give the farmer an opportunity to see what kind of seed and other commodities his neighbors are producing and to find out how he can get started in improving his own products. One of the problems that the committee is still trying to solve is the movement of little pigs from the breeders to other farmers who need them. Scales and tables will be provided at the grain show building for the use of farmers who buy or sell seed grain at the fair. A large crowd is expected at the Saturday fair.

HINTS for HOME GARDENERS

TOMATOES, IN MANY VARIETIES, RANK NEAR TOP IN FAVOR OF MOST GARDENERS

This is the eleventh of a series of exclusive articles on vegetable gardening prepared for NEA Service and Post-Crescent.

BY WM. R. BEATTIE
Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture

Every once a disobedient little girl ate the "Love Apples" and didn't die of poisoning, tomatoes have increased in favor with inhabitants of the western hemisphere. Now they are one of the most cherished of our garden crops.

Most of us are so eager to have ripe tomatoes from our gardens as early as possible, that we go to all kinds of trouble to start the plants in the house, to nurse them along in hotbeds or coldframes, and finally cover the plants with papers on cold nights after they are set in the garden.

It takes about as much tomato seed as you can hold between your thumb and finger to give you all the early plants you will need for your garden. That small pinch of seed planted in a cigar box filled with good clean mellow soil will provide at least one hundred plants for your garden.

Transplant After First Leaf
As soon as the plants are up and have formed their first true leaf, in addition to the seed leaves, they should be transplanted to a larger box of good soil and spaced at least two inches in each direction. Remember that tomato plants are

The Pritchard has just been released, and only a few seedsmen are offering seed this year. The Marglobe is pronounced to be the best general purpose and canning tomato yet introduced, but the Break O'Day is a little earlier.

Battalino Loses To Petrolle By Technical K. O. In Twelfth

REFEREE STOPS BOUT WITH BAT OUT ON HIS FEET

Tries to Carry Fight to Duluth Veteran and Is Cut to Pieces

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK—(AP)—Perhaps he doesn't care for that sort of thing but it seems an undoubted injustice that Billy Petrolle never gets a whack at a fistie championship.

Considered in many quarters the greatest fighting man now in the ring, a logical contender for either the lightweight or welterweight title, the Duluth veteran is just as far away from a championship as he ever was.

To his string of victories over Jimmy McLarnin, Justo Saurer, Eddie Han and Billy Townsend, Petrolle added another last night—a one-sided triumph over Christopher (Bat) Battalino, of Hartford, Conn., former world's featherweight champion, and called recently the modern "Battling Nelson."

Wins With Knockout
A near-capacity crowd of 18,000 spectators looked on uneasily as Petrolle cut Battalino to pieces with vicious rights and lefts to the head, brought blood streaming from a dozen cuts, and finally stopped him after one minute and 51 seconds of the twelfth and final round.

Despite Battalino's series of spectacular triumphs over Kid Chocolate, Fidel LaBarba, Al Singer, Earl Mastro and Eddie Han, Petrolle was the betting favorite at 7 to 5 as they entered the ring. And before three rounds were over it was apparent that Battalino was over-matched.

The Hartford boy committed fistic suicide by carrying the fight to the Duluth slugger. McLarnin, after taking one terrific beating from Petrolle, had learned that that style of battling was fatal. He made Petrolle do the leading in the two subsequent bouts and won them both on close decisions.

Batly Battered
But Battalino had gained his most notable victories by his eternal aggressiveness and he thought he could whip Petrolle that way. But Billy was too wily for him. As Battalino tore in, Billy retreated, firing damaging punches into Bat's face and body. In the third round he nailed Battalino with a smashing right uppercut that slashed the Hartford boy's nose to the bone and before the bout was over Battalino was bleeding from cuts over both eyes as well as from the nose.

Through round after round Battalino gamely stood up under terrific punishment but he finally weakened in the twelfth. Two smashing punches to the body made Battalino sway. Another volley to the head sent him reeling into the ropes. Still he refused to go down but he obviously was out on his feet and Referee Gunboat Smith stepped in and awarded the fight to Petrolle on a technical knockout.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS ... By Laufer

THEY ALL LAUGHED WHEN Rube Waddell went to the mound against the Red Sox one day back in 1903. The Sox management had planned to frame Rube by having their big first baseman, "Candy" Lachance, engage Rube in a friendly wrestling match before the game to get him all tuckered out. After an hour of the most strenuous tugging and hauling, the Rube pinned "Candy." And all he did to the Sox that afternoon was to beat them 1 to 0, allowing three hits and striking out 14 batters. The wrestling had warmed him up!

Training Camp Notes

Bradenton, Fla.—(AP)—Max Carey still is looking around for a trade to strengthen his Brooklyn Dodgers.

With Del Bissonette out of action for five or six weeks, Carey must solve the first base problem before the season starts and the only answer may be a trade.

Los Angeles—(AP)—So pleased is Manager John McGraw with training conditions here that the already has decided to bring his New York Giants to Los Angeles again next year.

The Giants have been here since Feb. 18 and not once has the weather interfered with practice sessions.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—(AP)—The New York Yankees haven't even started yet in the season which they hope will bring them the American league pennant, but if they do win the flag they have an idea that they ought to do well in the world's series.

COLLEGE TANKERS SHOW AT ANN ARBOR

Meet Considered Tryout for Places on U. S. Olympic Swim Team

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Leading collegiate candidates for places on the United States Olympic swimming team will display their prowess at the National Intercollegiate swimming meet which opens this afternoon at the University of Michigan pool.

The class of talent entered spells trouble for the four individual title holders present to defend their laurels. Last year's champions entered in the preliminaries this afternoon are Schmeier, Michigan, 200 yard breast stroke; Scherer, Princeton, 50 yard free style; Clapp, Leland Stanford, 220 yard free style; and Riley, Southern California, fancy diving.

Michigan is defending team champion and with a well balanced squad the Wolverines have high hopes of keeping the title. Strong competition is expected from Northwestern, which placed second to Michigan in the Western conference meet, Princeton and Stanford.

Scheduled for this afternoon are preliminaries in the 50 and 100 yard swims and fancy diving and the final 1,500 meter swim. Other preliminaries will be held tonight, and finals tomorrow evening.

The meet has been announced as tryout for the U. S. Olympic team and gate receipts will go to the Olympic fund.

APPLEBY LEADS IN QUEST FOR CUT TITLE

New York—(AP)—Francis S. Appleby of New York, leading American candidate for the title, and two foreign invaders, Gustave Van Belle of Belgium and Albert Corty of France, shared first place today as the third day's play in the world's amateur 15.2 billiard tournament began.

Van Belle and Corty each won two matches yesterday to catch up to Appleby who opened the tournament with a victory Wednesday then added another yesterday, downing Dommering of Holland 400-275. Albert Poensens of Germany, the defending champion, and Edmond Soussa of Egypt also were in the undefeated class with one victory apiece.

Van Belle clicked off the high run of the tournament so far in defeating Worth D. Berghem of Saginaw, Mich., for his second victory yesterday. He made a cluster of 128 in his 400-214 victory. He also beat Alfredo Ferraz, Portugal, 400-215. Corty downed Dommering 400-275, and Charles Foester, second German entry, 400-198.

JIMMY SMITH ROLLS AT A. B. C. TOURNEY

Detroit—(AP)—Jimmy Smith will perform in the American Bowling Congress tourney tonight.

The diminutive New York Italian, rated by many as the greatest bowler of all time, is scheduled with the Grand lineup of Youngstown, Ohio.

Smith is to the bowling game what Bobby Jones is to golf and Babe Ruth is to baseball. Wherever the ten pin game exists, the name of Jimmy Smith is known.

For the past 20 years he has toured the country, rolling in practically every city between the coasts. His grand average exceeds 210 for all these exhibitions. Though he missed out at Buffalo last year, he averaged 210.10 for the tournament from 1927 to 1930. He has the best grand average of all the thousands of shooters competing in the annual A. B. C.'s.

The Memphis baseball club of the Southern Association passed up an invitation from the president of Mexico to hold their spring practice there.

Coach Dean Cromwell of the University of Southern California track and field teams, had six athletes in each of the Olympic games of 1924 and 1928.

GRIMES DAD SHOWS SUCCESS OF CUBS

Owen—(AP)—Customers of Nick Grimes, local ice man and father of Burleigh Grimes, newly acquired Chicago Cub pitcher, will not have to read the newspapers to learn how the Cubs fare in their daily tilts when the season opens April 12.

They know from experience that if Grimes' club lost the game, Nick handles the ice roughly and slams it into the box. But if it was a victory, Nick has a cheery "good morning," and smiles broadly as he goes about his work.

Nick is predicting big things for the Cubs this year.

THE amateur fight game is due for a shakeup in Wisconsin. Milwaukee reports yesterday that, following a ruling by the state athletic commission, that they would, in the future, name the judges at amateur fight cards as well as the referee and a hint that the matter of the pay of amateur fighters in the way of jewelry awards and "expenses" might be probed at so.

In the past it has been the practice for the amateur boxing clubs at their monthly shows to pick two judges for the bouts to act with the referee, two is named by the state commission. A ruling from Milwaukee now decrees that the state will make its own appointments in an attempt to curb the present trend toward unpopular decisions. The commission's decision followed the discovery of several instances of judges, who worked in ignorance of scoring methods and, who otherwise failed to qualify as officials. The change will become effective at once.

Not To Be Paid

It was at first feared that this ruling might mean the payment of fees to the judges and also long railroad fares when the judges had to come from outside. But according to Al Goetter of the commission, the judges working amateur bouts will not be commercialized to the extent that they will be paid for their services. Nor will they be appointed for shows where a long trip is involved. "I'm making a complete reorg. and will single out all the competent amateur judges," said Goetter. "We do not propose to change the amateur clubs added expense under this new rule. We'll go along as we have been. So for a Green Bay show, for illustration, we wouldn't pick Milwaukee men as judges."

The question of "when is an amateur not an amateur?" has started the state athletic commission off on another investigation. It is that of probing the status of a number of Wisconsin amateur fighters, who, it is charged, travel over the state and get, for making appearances, not only prizes, but also additional compensation from padded expense accounts.

In most instances amateur fighters are given wrist watches, and also a certain sum for traveling and training expenses, ranging from $15 to $50.

Turn in Big Accounts

"Some of these fellows," said Al Goetter, secretary of the state athletic commission, "turn in traveling expense bills for one show that look like my week's salary. We're going to investigate every one of them, and if it is established from the evidence that they are receiving money over and above their actual expenses we'll not hesitate in declaring them professional."

Milwaukee reports said that the amateur fighters even can "afford" managers and incredible as it seems, some of these managers live on what their boxers win. This is said to be particularly true down around Milwaukee, where the amateur boxers are numerous. It is hinted that the amateurs need a manager to get bouts for them.

But the most drastic regulation of all came when the commission decided to take the naming of the judges from the clubs.

O. B. TEAMS TO PLAY FOR TITLE APRIL 1

Specials Remain in Running by Defeating Petts, 15 and 11

Sammy Ornstein's Specials continued in the race for the Older Boy basketball championship when they defeated the Petts last night 15 and 11 with a great exhibition in the second half. The score was 15 and 11.

The score at the end of the first half was 4 and 4, each team showing two field goals. In the second half the Specials started counting short shots by Arnold and a long one or two by Gochler and Dutcher, and won easily.

Valley Sports copped from the Delta H-Y in a one sided exhibition by a score of 18 and 5. In the first half play was close, the period ending 4 and 0 for the Sports. In the second half Thoms got two baskets, Ethika three and Lillie and Elias one each and the Sports won hands down.

The other game last night saw the A. I. R. win from the Merchants by a score of 17 and 12. The Ants led at the half 6 and 4 and had to do some lat shooting to cop in the last half. LaMarr, a graduate from the Pioneer league, paced the Merchants in their effort to beat the A. I. R. with four buckets.

Plans are to play for the league championship, Friday, April 1. The game will be between the Specials and Wolverines. The latter won the first round of play and both now are tied in standings.

EXPECT MACKS TO REPEAT IN JUNIOR LEAGUE

Yankees and Washington Will Offer Champions Most Opposition

BY ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (AP) — Faith in the New York Yankees, hope in the Washington Senators and a charitable belief in the potency of precedent may combine to make things tough for the Philadelphia Athletics in this year's American league pennant race.

Even so, it is extremely difficult to figure just how Connie Mack's formidable cast can be stopped from making it four in a row, and a league record, unless the opposition has some novel plans, hitherto concealed, to check Grove, Earnshaw, Walberg, Simmons, Cochrane and Fox.

So long as the A's have this six-ply backbone, they cannot be regarded otherwise than as strong favorites again to win the American league flag. Their pitching outclassing that of any other club in the league. They have the punch to slug it out with any rival, even the Yankees, and Connie Mack's reserve strength, on which he rode down the stretch last season, looks to be even better.

Holds Title Team Intact

Mack is the only American league manager who ever held a championship combination virtually intact for more than three seasons. He made few changes in the outfit that won four out of five pennants from 1910 to 1914. In the past three years of rulemaking, Mack has made only one alteration in the regular lineup, at shortstop. Except for a reversible infield feature, by which Fox moves to third and the newcomer, Oscar Roettger, to first, the Athletics will start the 1932 season with the same lineup that dropped the world series to the Cardinals.

Mack admits real fear of the Yankees and their "murderers' row" but it is difficult to see how the New Yorkers can displace the A's with out big improvement in the pitching corps. The club was the biggest run maker in the majors last season but wound up in second place, 13½ games back of the Mack men. The Yanks have picked a real star in shortstop Frank Crosetti, who forms a new keystone combination with Otto Saltzgraver and hope to develop some pitching help for Gomez, Ruffing and Pipgras.

Although the rest of the American league clubs manifest improvement, especially the Browns and White Sox, Washington is the only other club considered a pennant possibility. The Senators couldn't stand the pace last year but they have speed, pitching and defensive strength, to which has been added the punch of outfielder Carl Reynolds.

Indians Have Punch

If Cleveland could combine its best features with those of Washington, this would be a different story. The Indians carry a real rock, which has been especially damaging to the Yankees, but their defense is spotty and they still lack a first class shortstop. Manager Roger Peckinpaugh must dream fitfully of the day when he may wake up to find himself with a shortstop like Joe Cronin.

STUDENTS TO DEBATE STUART-CHASE PLAN

The incorporation into federal legislation of the Stuart-Chase plan for the stabilization of business is to be argued by two Lawrence college debate squads before the Y. M. C. A. Toastmasters club Monday evening. The debate will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Orvis Schmidt and Norman Clapp will present the affirmative arguments and David Fulton and Marcus Plant will argue the negative aspect. The Stuart-Chase plan for the stabilization of business is the intercollegiate question being argued this year by the men's varsity debate teams.

EMERGENCY HAY REPLACES ALFALFA

Sow Crop Early in April if Alfalfa Was Winter-killed

BY W. F. WINGET

Although a number of farmers are complaining about their stands of alfalfa being killed by alternate freezing and thawing the past winter, the stands of the farms of Walter Wierckel, route 4, and Edward Ziegler, route 5, appear to be perfect. Each of these farmers said, however, that alfalfa fields may yet be damaged by the sharp freezing and thawing of the spring.

From observing what large numbers of farmers who have suffered losses of their stands of alfalfa and sweet clover in the past through winterkilling have successfully done, the writer knows what he would do in such a case. He would work up the surface of the fields lightly as soon as possible and make a firm seed bed and then sow emergency hay and pasture seed. Either sweet clover or alfalfa sown early in April without a nurse crop will produce hay or pasture for summer or winter.

Rye may be used for early pasture, and a mixture of oats and sweet clover sown in the spring, after the rye. When the oats play out, the sweet clover soon shows up for pasture.

Soybeans produce the best and most reliable emergency hay crop in large yields. This crop is attractive to farmers whose alfalfa has winter-killed.

Some farmers have gotten good service in late summer and fall from Sudan grass. The seed is planted late but the crop grows rapidly into pasture or hay.

A southpaw like Grove or Gomez. Still Peck has aces in Ferrell and Averill.

The Browns, best of the second division clubs, have an outside chance to crash the first four, with the aid of excellent pitching and a fast, aggressive attack developed by Bill Killefer.

The Boston Red Sox, who surprised even themselves by finishing sixth last season, rely on pitching to keep them there, despite the death of Big Ed Morris. To combat them, Detroit and Chicago both have conducted major shakeups.

Bucky Harris pins the Tiger hopes on improved hurling, plus the return to form of Charley Gehringer at second base, and fresh outfield punch. The White Sox, newly in charge of Lew Fonseca, depend on a revamped infield, the return of Ted Lyons to a place among the game's great right-handers and the conversion of big Smead Jolley from an outfielder to a catcher.

Luxurious Apartment House Absolutely Free To Tenants

BY JESSIE HENDERSON

Copyright, 1932, by Cons. Press Hollywood—(CPA)—A waiting list of potential tenants all over the world is one feature of the strange apartment house in Hollywood. The rooms in this apartment house are always filled. There has never been a "vacancy" sign outside its entrance.

Almost anyone would be glad to occupy even the smallest room and bath in this building. For example, heat, light, water and gas are furnished. There is no charge whatever for telephone and janitor service. And since the apartment house was put up, seven years ago, none of the tenants has paid a penny of rent.

Several of the apartments include a kitchenette, equipped in the most modern style. All of them have furniture, draperies, and decorations in the best of taste. Some are done in the French manner, some in English, others in beautifully futuristic effects. There are attractive brass knockers on the doors and attractive potted shrubs on the front steps.

The building is four stories high and the architects gave it a pleasing variety by making part of it Norman, part Early English, part present day American. Instead of one large entrance, there are several entrances for tenants of the upper floors, while each of the first floor apartments has its own separate steps and porch.

This apartment house with its long potential waiting list is on one of the most desirable pieces of real estate in Los Angeles-co. Its windows look out on a fine park with a fountain and smooth lawn. In the very heart of Hollywood, it is perhaps the quietest spot in town because the rumble of traffic is excluded by a high wall and by other buildings.

The tenants are all well known people. Marlene Dietrich has an apartment here. So has Maurice Chevalier, Tallulah Bankhead, the four Marx brothers, Richard Arlen, George Bancroft, Gary Cooper, and Frederick March.

There is only one qualification for residence in this imposing structure. And there's the catch. You must be a star or featured player under contract at the Paramount studio. Show your contract, and the studio hands you an apartment in this building on the studio lot for use as your dressingroom.

WOMEN CONSIDERED STUBBORN POLITICALLY

Milwaukee—(AP)—About a hat, or a profound debate as to whether hair is to be bobbed or long, a woman may change her mind and be as fickle as the west wind. But in a matter of politics, once her mind is set she is likely to be so firm that rude males call her stubborn. It was said here by Mrs. Agnes Charbonneau, Superior assemblywoman and candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention.

"Women are slower than men to make up their minds," she said. "Women deliberate, rather than jump to decisions. But when they have made up their minds to something they stick to it. Despite all that has been said about the feminine predilection for changing opinions along with dresses, I find that women in politics are a tempering and stabilizing influence."

There has been considerable fighting in Mrs. Charbonneau's political career, but she has found that men fight fairly.

"This I can say for men in politics," she observed. "They give a woman an equal chance. They listen respectfully to what she says and they give her views courteous and just consideration."

MORE PROOF of RIVERSIDE QUALITY

"I Have Never Seen Anything Like It"

Montgomery Ward & Co. Chicago, Illinois 1319 W. Nickerson St. Seattle, Wash.

Gentlemen:

Three years ago in July I purchased a Riverside 33x6.00 for my Studebaker Commander. This tire was in service on the rear wheel for two and one-half years before changed to the front. It gave 49,126 miles of continuous service without ever having been off the rim, and my car has had hard wear, traveling over many miles of rough country roads. Such service as rendered by that tire is certainly worthy of publicity. I have never seen anything like it in automobile tires.

Sincerely yours, W.C. Bailey

This interesting letter from Mr. Bailey is one of many thousands in our files. It was entirely voluntary—sent to us without solicitation. Nothing was paid for it. It is a genuine expression of gratitude for meritorious service.

And Now We Offer 6 PLY RIVERSIDES AT 4 PLY PRICES!

UNLIMITED GUARANTEE

All Riverside Tires are guaranteed to give satisfactory service regardless of time used or mileage run. Any tire that fails to give satisfactory service, will, at our option, be REPAIRED FREE OF CHARGE or replaced with a new tire—in which event you will be charged only for the actual service the tire delivered.

We'll match Riverside on the road against any tire and beat it in price. So why be satisfied with other 4 ply tires when you can buy full 6 ply Riverside for the same money?

Think of this—the BEST tires we have ever sold! The LOWEST prices in our history! The GREATEST tire values we have ever offered! That's what Ward offers you today!

A genuine full 6 ply Riverside for the usual price of other 4 ply tires. A FULL 6 ply Riverside at the lowest price at which any heavy duty 6 ply tire has ever been sold. And 6 full plies (sometimes referred to as "8 plies under the tread") mean more strength, more mileage, more safety and more satisfaction.

Riversides are one of the oldest and most famous makes of tires in America. They have been sold for 20 years. Millions are in use today—on all makes of cars, on all sorts of roads, in all kinds of weather.

Riversides are made by one of the largest tire companies in the world. They are of the highest quality it is possible to produce. They are built to the most exacting set of specifications in the tire industry. They are backed by the strongest guarantee ever written.

KITTY FREW by JANE ABBOTT

Chapter 11
WHO HOLDS TRUMPS?
"ROLL!" Kitty's cry was sharp. "An ideal match. . . . The words shot across her memory. Mrs. Frew had said it of someone—Joan Travers and Jerry Mont. "Carol, stop! Why—why should you want to hurt me?"

Carol shrugged her shoulders. "I told you I had my own reasons. And maybe when you're sunk yourself you like to see someone else writhe."

"Well, I'm not writhing. Not even to please you am I going to let you distort me. I'm sorry you're not happy. I can't understand it. You have everything most anyone could want."

Carol's answer was explosive. "Everything! You've lived here two months and can't see? Why, I'd leave this house in a minute if I could—just as David did. I will some day."

Over her own outraged emotions Kitty felt a need of Carol's greater than her own and it held her, pitying, for a moment. But she had no way of reaching through Carol's strange unkindness, and before any word could be spoken Carol went on, scornfully.

"I thought maybe I could open your eyes but you won't listen. You can't see a game when it's played right under your nose. Well, that's that."

Kitty's control was close to breaking. She would not let Carol see it break. She would not write for Carol's satisfaction. But she had to catch the back of her chair and hold tightly to it to steady herself.

"If you mean Gar—and Marge—I'll trust Gar to play any game fair."

Carol had moved toward the door. She turned with a little mocking smile.

"But Marge isn't holding the trumps, you see. Or that's what you don't see."

When the door closed behind Carol, Kitty knew only a hot indignation in which Carol's parting taunt lost all significance.

"She wants me to be jealous! She wants Gar and me to quarrel. Well, I won't. She won't. She'll be forward, indeed. She'd been very close to jealousy this evening. She could thank Carol for saving her."

Her moment's pity for Carol was gone. Of course Carol wasn't happy; who could be happy who so enjoyed the process of hurting someone else?

She and Gar must get away from this house, from Carol's spying, watching for opportunities to say such things as she had said tonight.

"I'll talk to Gar's father—tomorrow morning."

Gar came in a little after ten. She met him almost gayly. Oh, she'd been ever so busy.

"We closed that deal for the barn, Kit. Gar threw off his coat and lighted a cigarette. "It's going to be a knockout, the whole thing. Marge has an architect making some drawing already. And Somerset—say, that boy's a headache. He's had a past or I can't smell one. But he knows his job. And you wait—He's going to make a headliner out of Marge before she's through with him." Gar had drawn Kitty down into his lap and she cuddled her head against his shoulder taptly. She was thinking, not of Somerset and Marge and the barn and that when they had their own home it would be like this, they'd sit like this before a fire and talk.

But her determination to talk to Gar's father stayed with her. She slipped out of bed early the next morning and dressed quietly as she waited. She watched the clock and when its hands pointed to the exact hour of eight she went downstairs, and her heart beating a little fast because this talk meant so much.

Mr. Frew was already at the table, his newspaper spread before him. Oh, why Kitty thought as she went in, hadn't she got down before he'd started reading it. But his welcome seemed to hold only real delight.

"This is nice, Kitty—to have your company. Perhaps if I had your pretty face across from me every morning my digestion might be better."

And Frew smiled, too, and began devouring himself to her needs.

"Mr. Frew—" And then the absurdity of that checked her, to have no more intimate name by which to catch his attention! But he had not heard it.

"Well, are you happy with us here, my dear?" Eventually he came to his usual question and Kitty pounced on it in relief.

"Oh, yes! But I've been thinking—I came down this morning to ask you—is that position in your office still open to Gar?" Her voice trembled in spite of her.

Mr. Frew looked a little vague. "What position, my dear? Of course we might make room for him somewhere. I've always played with the idea of his coming into the office some time. But his mother led me to believe he'd made other plans."

Kitty caught the table edge with tight fingers.

"He hasn't any other plans, that is none that will get us anywhere! And he ought to begin working. We ought to be living in our own home independently. If you'd make him think you needed him, maybe—"

Her earnestness brought Mr. Frew's full attention to her. There was a little kindling of satisfaction on his face. "You're right, Kitty. The boy ought to begin working. Tell him to come in at four o'clock this afternoon. We'll talk things over—there'll be some place I can put him into. I've just bought a new business block—he might take over the renting of the offices."

"Oh, I knew he could do it," Kitty cried and then laughed that she should be extolling Gar's ability to his own father.

Mr. Frew patted her hand. "I didn't think the girls nowadays bothered their heads about practical matters. So you want a home of your own?" For a moment she fancied a quality of wastefulness in his tone. "Well, make yours, Kitty and keep it a home. Don't let it get to be a mere shell of a thing—"

"Like this house," she finished silently for him, on a flash of understanding. But that understanding was lost at once in her joy that he'd promised to talk to Gar. And if for even an instant Dalton Frew had felt any longing for a home that was not a mere shell, even a gorgeous shell, that apparently was gone, too, in his concern at the lateness of the hour.

"You've made me forget that I have a very busy day ahead of me, little Kitty," he lamented, nearly noon. By did not waken until nearly noon. By then Kitty had completed in her fancy the home they would have in its smallest cub-board. They would buy their furniture carefully, a few pictures, pictures they hung because they meant something to them. Books—they have books, everywhere, not just in stiff rows.

Oh, no, their home should never come to be a shell of a place; there would be love in it, laughter, nonsense, a need of one for the other.

She'd have Gar's father and mother, even Carol, come for dinner often. And David. David must come to sit before their fire, to know that their walls were walls that put arms around you—

When Gar awakened she met him with shining eyes, a merry mood. "Gar, I've a wonderful surprise!" But she would not tell him, she said, until after he'd had his breakfast. She teased him, eluded him when he tried to kiss her, shook her head, laughing, when he made absurd guesses as to her surprise.

When she told him she put her arms about his neck. "Gar, your father has a splendid position for you, right away! It's something to do with a new building he's bought. Renting the offices—He wants you to go in at four o'clock today to talk about it."

Gar pulled her hair. "Since when have you been getting chummy with Dad? I haven't heard of any new building."

"I ate breakfast with him this morning. It was nice. I think he liked it. And he talked of things. I told him that we ought to have a home of our own. Gar." She waited, then a prayer beating with every pound of her heart.

Unintentional eavesdropping gives Kitty the key to Mrs. Frew's trickery, in the next installment.

WHEAT FLIRTS WITH ALL-TIME BOTTOM PRICE

Value of Grains Estimated to Have Fallen $50,- 000,000 in Week

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
(Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press
Chicago—(CFA)—Wheat is now flirting with its all-time record low prices amidst a bewildering accompaniment of controversy. The ensuing drama has a hard cash meaning to millions in the farm areas of the nation.

Value of grains still on the farm is estimated to have fallen fully $50,000,000 during the past week, while the grain trade and the farm board argued over matters of policy.

Traders insist that they are afraid the farm board intends to dump its 150,000,000 bushel store of wheat on European markets with credits made available from the $209,000,000 farm loan fund of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. They also say they are afraid of this accumulated 150,000,000 bushels if it isn't sold.

The farm board on its side, claims that the grain is not going to be dumped and that the present price flood is the result of a "malicious attempt to manipulate the market," in the words of James C. Stone, chairman.

Arthur W. Cullen, publicly prominent speculator, who a few months ago stirred up speculation with a prediction of $1 wheat, thereby creating a bull market, when farm board holdings were at least $5,000,- 000 bushels larger than today, now is out with a statement that prices can't go up because of the government agency's grain accumulation.

Too Much Wheat?
"The farm board," he says, "has too much wheat to get rid of. Apparently it is anxious to get rid of it. Later in the year when the position of the farm board is better understood there may be a chance of an advance in wheat from a low level."

All of the time government officials are quoted in contradictions, further complicating a situation that involves the return that hard pressed farmers will get for grain held for satisfactory prices.

George S. Milnor, president of the Grain Stabilization Corporation, farm board subsidiaries, said he was going to Europe for a vacation. Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, then said Mr. Milnor was going to find buyers for farm board wheat.
This led to intimations of dumping and James C. Stone, chairman of the farm board, denied any such intention.

Prominent grain houses are out with statements claiming that any grain sold by the government agencies abroad only would narrow the field for marketing privately owned grain, and would disrupt markets just at a time when the new United States crop is less than ninety days away from market.

While the argument goes on, some of the more conservative grain market students, with standing in the trade, say that the farm board should dispose of its wheat holdings as soon as possible because so long as they are in sight they provide potential trouble. These commentators commend the recommendation of the grain advisory committee of the farm board that federal wheat holdings be disposed of whenever possible to non-European buyers who ordinarily do not buy American wheat.

A BOOK A DAY

BY BRUCE CATTON
THE WILD WEST

Just a century ago, Americans knew less about the territory west of Missouri and Iowa than they know today about darkest Africa.

Millions of buffalo roamed the open plains. Beaver in countless numbers swarmed along the mountain streams. No man knew just how far away California might be, or where the best pass through the Rockies was, and Great Salt Lake was just a legend hinted at by adventurers. Any dream could come true and no man knew what mar-vels were yet to be discovered.

In this time and setting Stewart
Edward White has cast his novel,
"The Long Rifle," and it is as spirited a tale of romantic adventure as you might care to read.

His hero is the grandson of a man who went into Kentucky with Daniel Boone. He leaves his home on a Pennsylvania farm, goes to St. Louis and joins forces with two wild "mountain men"—those unspeakably adventurous trappers who went far into the west each year for furs, who loved the empty wilderness and who, in spite of themselves, were the chief factors in opening it for civilization.

Mr. White lets you watch them as they do this; lets you see the interplay of forces which annihilated the buffalo, crushed the Indian and peopled a tremendous wilderness in a few short decades. Now and then he forgets his narrative in the fascination of describing the historical panorama, but it doesn't matter—the story is a bit Leatherstocking-ish here and there anyway.

"The Long Rifle" won't win any Pulitzer prizes, but you'll like it very much if you have any feeling at all for those colorful old days. It is published by Doubleday, Doran & Co., and sells for $2.50.

carry their fight for state compensation to the Dane county circuit court.

The state industrial commission recently refused to allow the widows of Charles Dryden, Sr., and Louis Brunn, both of Morris, Ashland county, compensation on the ground that the evidence did not prove that they were employed by the state nor that they were fighting the fire when they were trapped and burned.

W. K. Parkinson, LaCrosse, counsel for the plaintiffs, contends that the men were requested by a state fire ranger to aid in fighting the fire and that they agreed.

EAT MORE; LOSE 10 POUNDS OF FAT IN 10 DAYS

An Italian Discovery

Drink Water Before Breakfast and Make
One Change in Diet
Only to Rip Off Ten Pounds in 10 Days

HERE is sweet music in scientific tempo for fat people's ears. "Eat more to grow thin."

Thanks to a unique Italian discovery, thousands of people are doing it. Losing as much as seven pounds a week, and building their health as well.

Here's the way. So if you want to get rid of some bulk, cut this article out and save it. Chances are, in a week, your friends will be wondering what you've been doing to yourself to get rid of the fat they used to tease you about.

What You Do

FIRST: As soon as you get up in the morning, put two tablespoons of sparkling Brioschi Italian effervescent in a half glass of cool water; and drink it down while it is still effervescent.
This tends to de-acidify the system before food touches the stomach.

NEXT: Make just one simple change in your diet. Eat DOUBLE the quantity you now eat of certain foods; and cut down on others. Here are the foods to double on; the ones to cut down on.

DOUBLE on these: Carrots, spinach, oranges, cabbage, lettuce, new turnips, white squash, sauerkraut, broccoli, fresh peas, apples, and all green vegetables. See how much of these you can make your stomach hold. Eat also your usual appetite's requirement of any lean meat. Beef, veal, chicken, etc., etc.

CUT on these: Eat bran or whole wheat bread instead of white bread or biscuits. For dessert have fresh

1ST DAY 10TH DAY

fruit instead of pastry. Cut down on butter but don't cut it out entirely.

BEFORE BED: Repeat two tablespoons of sparkling Brioschi Italian in half a glass of water to again deacidify the stomach. Don't think, either, that this is hard. It makes a really pleasant drink that tastes like lemonade, not like vile-tasting salts.
So everything is easy.

The result of this dietary change will be that you'll really have MORE than you want to eat, yet will see fat go in a way you wouldn't have believed. And, you'll feel more active than you probably have for years.
For the diet that takes off the fat, cut this article out and save it. The de-acidifier you use is called Brioschi Italian effervescent (pronounced Bree-os-ky). You can get it at any drugstore.

HONOR DOCTOR WHO ISOLATED T. B. MICROBE

German's 50-year-old Discovery Turned Tide in Fight Against Disease

Washington—(AP)—Thursday, just 50 years after Dr. Robert Koch turned the tide in mankind's long battle against tuberculosis by discovering the microbe that causes it, victory in the fight seems nearer than ever. As yet no specific cure for tuberculosis has been found, but deaths from the "white plague" are definitely on the decline, and at an impressive rate. For the United States the mortality from this disease, which once was enormous, stood at 130 per 100,000 of population in 1912. By 1929, the latest measured year, it had fallen to 69.

A tiny rod-shaped plant that grows on human flesh was proved by Koch to be the fearful enemy against which physicians had been fighting a blind and losing battle. He announced his discovery March 24, 1882. Today the United States, in response to a call from President Hoover will join a world-wide commemoration of his achievement.

In Koch's day every seventh child was doomed to die of tuberculosis. It is said to have been the leading cause of death at that time, although so little was known about the disease that it was called by eight or ten different names. Today, tuberculosis has dropped to seventh place among mortal diseases. Millions of people now alive actually owe their existence to the modest German country doctor who did his first research between treatments of villagers for indigestion and toothache.

"Discovery of the tuberculosis bacillus by Koch," says the U. S. Public Health Service, "placed in the hands of science a definite method of recognizing the disease, and from that basis have been developed many of the modern methods of diagnosis, prevention and treatment."

Made Testing Possible

Tuberculin testing of cattle, which has made the milk supplies of some states almost entirely free of tuberculosis, was made possible by Koch's discovery, the health service points out. This has reduced one dangerous source of infection. Better housing, food and general health knowledge have served as valuable allies in the fight.

Hundreds of thousands of French children have been inoculated with a vaccine developed by French physicians which is not a preventive but is believed to increase their resistance against tuberculosis infection. Physicians disagree as to the vaccine's value.

The whole modern idea that bacteria cause disease is based to a large extent on the work of Koch. He formulated "Koch's postulates," four essential steps in establishing what germ causes a disease. They are: Isolate the germ from a case of the disease; grow it in a pure culture outside the body; use that culture to produce the same disease in an animal; recover the same kind of germ from the sick animal. These steps still are used in modern bacteriology.

Koch used this method to find the germ of tuberculosis and also that of anthrax, a disease that attacks both humans and animals. His discovery of the anthrax germ first made Koch famous, and led to his later work on tuberculosis and had, for centuries unchecked, by proving that its germs can grow only in polluted water.

Mr. Hoover And Mr. Vallee, It Seems, Started All This

New York—(AP)—All Mr. Rudy Vallee has to do to make a name for himself—again—is to write a theme song for prosperity.

President Hoover handed the megaphone maestro the assignment Wednesday when Vallee called at the White House to pay his respects. "Mr. Hoover smilingly told me," Vallee said, "that if I could sing a song that would make people forget their troubles he would give me a medal."

The idea of a serenade to the gods of plenty—"Cornucopia, Here We Come"—was a title one songwriter thought up, quick as a flash—bounced around in Pan alley today like a ball on a roulette wheel looking for a good number to land on.

One of the more talkative, if possible, piano-punishers broke into a cold sweat at what he frankly confessed was the first inspiration he has had since he did that smash, "Ducky-Wucky, Don't You Leave Me No More."

"It would be sure," he exclaimed.

ed, fumbling for a handkerchief and coming up with the laundry bill. "A wow," said another, clamping his hoof down on the loud pedal and whaling the keyboard with all the delicacy of a circus roustabout driving a ten stake.

The more mature minds among the music makers, however, mulled the matter. They recognized the task would be no light one. Finding rhymes for "moon" (moon, spoon, June) and "love" (above, turtle dove, shove) is a simple matter. A rhyme for "reconstruction finance corporation" is not so easy.

Tin Pan alley is not a thoroughfare to curl up and roll away at the first breeze of an idea, some erudite persons to the contrary notwithstanding. It began casting about today for the kind of lyrics that would definitely launch America down the way of happiness.

Prosperity lyrics suddenly were thicker than Mississippi mud. A tune tinker who had been at work on a "wow" titled "With You, Dear Elaine, in Spain in the Rain," tore it up and began humming madly. "I've got it!" he exulted. Then he sang:

"Do not say you can't afford it. Spend your dough, old pal, don't hoard it."

"That's terrible," kibitzed a companion in chromatic crime. "Listen to this:

"Oh, it's just around the corner, bay-bee Prosperity, and I ain't meanin' may-bee."

"That's great," Shouting another juggernaut of jazz. "And then you could go on with:

"From Maine to Alabama Every uncle, aunt and mammy. Every trade, every profession Hollers, 'down with the depression'!"

Thus it went. The idea was at work in Tin Pan alley, buting this songwriter and that. About all they needed were four more lines and then a smash finale to give the tenors a chance to show their gold teeth on a high note. These were quickly provided by a newcomer who, catching the idea, contributed:

"Oh, say can you see Anything that's botherin' me?"

MAY CONSTRUCT FUTURE BUILDINGS OF "CORK BRICK"

Former University of Wisconsin Instructor Demonstrates Invention

BY DEXTER H. TEED
New York—A brick floating in a tub of water . . . A life preserver of joined bricks supporting a man in the seething ocean . . . A building five times as high as the Empire State building constructed of bricks little heavier than cork . . . Sounds dizzy, doesn't it? But such bricks are actually being made. Like I'm so happy I could sing Whoops my dear, or anything. Whereupon all the others, struck by the same amazing inspiration for a last climatic line, shouted in unison:

"Here comes prosper-tee!"

the older type heavy bricks, they are made from clay—in 12 hours. Ordinary bricks require three full weeks.

Dr. C. F. Burgess, once a teacher of chemistry in the University of Wisconsin, is the inventor. He demonstrated these "cork bricks" before a gathering of noted New York chemists, and thereupon opened what may well be a new era in building construction.

Will Cut Costs
His invention means that the cost of big buildings will be materially reduced. Because the bricks are so light, two can be laid while one was laid before. The importance of this can be realized, as it is now known that it costs four times as much to lay a brick as the brick is worth.

It is expected that, once these new bricks are on the market in commercial quantities, building will be stimulated. Prohibitive costs will not force delays.

These bricks can be manufactured with a rough or smooth surface. They are fire and waterproof and they can be sawed like wood. Although porous and apparently fragile, they are remarkably strong. Actually they weigh one-fifth as much as an ordinary brick.

Years of Study
Perfecting them has been a triumph of years of study by Dr. Burgess. He was just awarded the Perkin medal for 1932, given by the American Section of the Society of Chemical Industry for "distinguished services in the field of applied chemistry."

As he stood before the New York chemists and casually dropped one in a container of water and saw it bob on the surface like a cork he made this prediction:

"It appears possible that two bricks can be laid at one time. It has not been accomplished, as the technical practice has not been perfected, but, although the process is still in the development stage, the outcome looks promising."

His process for making the light brick is a closely-guarded secret.
